Donald Trump signals he might run for US prez poll in 2024

New York: Donald Trump has strongly indicated that he might run for the 2024 US presidential election, claiming that "everyone" wants him to contest the polls once again, a decision he said will make a "couple of people unhappy." This scheme will help the families residing in urban areas to make a living."

QUEEN ELIZABETH II: 21 APR, 1926 - 8 SEPT, 2022

BRITISH ICON AND AN INSTITUTION

QUEEN Elizabeth II, Britain's longest-reigning monarch, passed away on Thursday at the Balmoral Castle, her summer residence in Scotland. She was 96. Members of the royal family were by her side when the end came.

Her death automatically made her 73-year-old son Charles monarch, though the coronation might not happen immediately. She is survived by four children, eight grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Making a brief announcement, Buckingham Palace said, "The Queen died peacefully at Balmoral this afternoon. The King and the Queen Consort will remain at Balmoral this evening and will return to London tomorrow."

During her reign spanning 70 years, she installed as many as 15 prime ministers — from Winston Churchill to Liz Truss, becoming an institution and an icon.

Born as Elizabeth Alexandra Mary Windsor in London on April 21, 1926, she was not born to be queen. Her father's elder brother Prince Edward was destined to take the crown, to be followed by his progeny. But in 1936, when she was 10, Edward VIII abdicated to marry American Wallis Simpson, and Elizabeth's father became King George VI.

In 1947, she married Philip Mountbatten, a prince of Greece and Denmark.

In February 1952, George VI died in his sleep when he was 56. Elizabeth, visiting Kenya at that point in time, was told she was now queen. "In a way I didn't have an apprenticeship," Elizabeth recalled in 1992. "My father died much too young, and so it was all a very sudden kind of taking on, and making the best job you can." Her coronation took place more than a year later at Westminster Abbey.

She had enough headaches within the family as well. In 1992, her daughter Princess Anne was divorced, Prince Charles and Princess Diana separated, and so did Prince Andrew and his wife Sarah. She later called 1992 as "annus horribilis". The public split of Charles and Diana followed by the shock of Diana's death in a Paris car crash in 1997 added to the palace shock.

She was arguably the most famous person in the world. But her inner life and opinions remained an enigma.

KING CHARLES III

The moment the Queen died, the throne passed to her son Charles. He will be known as King Charles III

Charles' wife gets the title of Queen Consort

Within the next 24 hours, Charles will be officially proclaimed King at St James's Palace in London

There will be no swearing in at the start of the monarch's reign. But he is expected to make a traditional declaration to preserve the Church of Scotland

Disengagement on at Hotsprings on LAC

Confidence building measure ahead of Shanghai Cooperation Organisation meet, which will be attended by Modi & Xi

MAYANK SINGH @ NEW DELHI

INDIA and China on Thursday sprang a surprise by beginning disengagement of troops from the Gogra-Hotsprings stand-off point in Eastern Ladakh along the Line of Actual Control. Unlike in the past, the withdrawal of troops began without any prior announcement.

A dry one-line joint statement issued by both sides said, "On 8th September 2022, according to the consensus reached in the 16th round of India China Corps Commander Level Meeting, the Indian and Chinese troops in the area of Gogra-Hotsprings (Patrolling Point-15) have begun to disengage in a coordinated and planned way, which is conducive to the peace and tranquility in the border areas."

The last troop pullback was from Patrolling Point 17A in August last year after the 12th round of the Corps Commander talks on July 31, 2021.

The latest confidence building measure came a week before Prime Minister Narendra Modi is scheduled to participate in the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) Summit in Samarkand, Uzbekistan. Chinese President Xi Jinping will also be present.

The two leaders have not spoken to each other since their November 2019 meeting on the sidelines of the BRICS summit in Brasilia. There was no clear word yet on bilateral talks between them on the sidelines of the summit.

The 16th round of talks were held on July 16 to discuss further disengagement in the friction points in the sector. The Corps Commanders had met in the Chushul area, on the Indian side of the LAC. The Leh-based Fire and Fury Corps Commander Lt Gen Anindya Sengupta led the Indian delegation.

Since the standoff began in May 2020, talks had led to disengagement from Galwan (Patrolling Point 14) in June 2020, Pangong Tso (North and South Banks) in February 2021 and Gogra (Patrolling Point 17A) in August 2021.

Each side currently has around 50,000-60,000 troops along the LAC in the sensitive sector.

The ongoing disengagement means troops will vacate the eyeball-to-eyeball positions they were occupying till now and fall back to their administrative bases. "But they remain in the general area," a source said.

The leftover stand-off points along the LAC are at Y-Junction in Depsang and Charding Nilong Nallah in Demchok.

Rajpath symbolised slavery: PM Modi on Kartavya Path

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

Terming the unveiling of Kartavya Path — by renaming Rajpath — and the granite statue of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose at India Gate canopy as historic and unprecedented, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Thursday said another vestige of slavery has been erased for good.

While dedicating the redeveloped iconic stretch to the nation, he said, "Kingsway and Rajpath, the symbol of slavery, have become a matter of history from today and have been erased forever. A new history has been created in the form of the Kartavya Path."

Referring to the removal of King George V's statue from the India Gate canopy, Modi said that at the time of slavery, there was a statue of the representative of the British Raj.

"The country has also brought to life a modern, strong India by establishing the statue of Netaji in the same place. Bose was such a great man who was beyond the challenge of position and resources. He had courage and self-respect. He had leadership abilities and had policies," he said.

He also inaugurated a photo exhibition on Bose's life and the Kartavya Path's history. In a veiled attack on the previous Congress governments at the Centre, he said that Bose's ideas were ignored after Independence. "If after Independence, India had followed the path of Subhas Babu, what heights would the country be at today? But unfortunately, this great hero of ours was forgotten after Independence," he added.

Pay min wages or face action, K'taka govt warns depts

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA'S Labour Department has issued a circular to all departments, public sector undertakings, universities, boards and corporations to pay salaries to housekeeping staff, security guards, manual scavengers and other contract staff as per the latest minimum wages fixed by the government, failing which action will be initiated against those responsible.

The circular stresses on minimum wages to be paid to the workers who are working on contract basis for various government and government undertaking agencies and follow the guidelines issued on working hours, leave, payment of ESI and Provident Fund. The guidelines should also be followed by agencies that supply manpower to these departments. These include security personnel hired through security agencies, and scavengers working with urban local bodies and panchayat raj department. Officials say that despite the guidelines, the department is receiving complaints from various sectors on minimum wages not being paid or delay in payment. "Agencies that do not fall in line will be blacklisted", said a senior official from Labour Department. P8

RAIN MAYHEM

Scientist says sudden, heavy rain due to global warming

BALA CHAUHAN @Bengaluru

LARGE swathes of land, mostly in the IT hub in Bengaluru, have been inundated following unprecedented torrential rains since September 4. Unlike in the past, it is being observed that the pattern of rainfall has changed — from an occasional drizzle and shower to a sudden and heavy downpour now. There are increasing instances of heavy and incessant rainfall leading to overflowing of lakes, flooding and water logging, which have stumped weathermen and town planners. While there is a lack of detailed research corroborating link between climate change and monsoon, meteorologist and Professor at the Centre for Atmospheric and Oceanic Sciences and the Chair of Divecha Centre for Climate Change, IISc, S K Satheesh said that extreme weather events like heavy rainfall over a short period could be because of a "gradual increase in the number of cloud condensation nuclei (aerosols) in the atmosphere and global warming." BBMP ducks CAG report, citizens pay

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

UTTER disregard for the recommendations made by the Comptroller and Auditor General (CAG) in its report nearly a year ago on Storm Water Drain (SWD) management by the civic agencies is being cited as the main reason behind the crisis caused by massive flooding in Bengaluru this week.

The report — 'Performance audit of management of storm water in Bengaluru urban area' — was tabled in the Assembly on September 15, 2021. It contained 20 recommendations to improve the SWD position in the City. However, a year down the line, the recommendations have not been taken seriously by the BBMP, the BWSSB as well as the BDA.

Water expert and member of the panel that made the recommendations, S Vishwanath told TNIE, "There has been no proper acknowledgement of the report and no response on the steps taken regarding the recommendations made." P6

Now, flood of hate against 'migrant' workers

Minister's 'unwelcome to B'luru' remark sparks row

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

HORTICULTURE Minister N Munirathna on Thursday hit out at those criticising the State Government over the recent flooding of Bellandur and Mahadevapura localities — home to several IT firms. "If you are unfit to live in Bengaluru, don't come to the city... no one invited you in the first place," the minister, who is MLA for RR Nagar, told reporters.

This comes in the wake of the State Government being trolled on social media over its failure in developing and preventing flooding along Outer Ring Road in Bellandur, Yemalur and Mahadevapura.

Meanwhile, Leader of Opposition in the Assembly Siddaramaiah came out in support of those slamming the government. "People are rightly criticising the government. They are suffering because of the government's apathy. Many areas are cut off and can be accessed only by boats. The government has not announced compensation for the families of those who have died in the floods," the former CM said.

JDS leader and former CM H D Kumaraswamy also hit out at Munirathna. "What is Munirathna's contribution 'percentage wise' to all this problem (floods)? Is this the reason Munirathna has been elected? It show his arrogance," he said, adding that such statements will drown the BJP.

Congress national general secretary H K Patil, who hails from North Karnataka said, "Munirathna's statement is insulting. People from North Karnataka come to build Bengaluru."

Former Lokayukta Justice N Santosh Hegde, who headed a committee to oversee implementation of NGT directives with regard to rejuvenation of lakes in the city, said the main reason for the flooding was Bellandur lake not being de-silted. Former chairman of Bellandur Gram Panchayat J Reddy said the encroachment of rajakaluves are causing the flooding.

#LeaveBengaluru trends amid man-made tragedy

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

FOLLOWING the floods in Bengaluru two days ago, citizens are expressing angst against migrant workers, asking them to leave the state. On Wednesday night, #LeaveBengaluru and #GetLostMigrants were trending on certain social media platforms. They claimed that people from other states were ruining the language and culture of Karnataka, and contributing to high pollution and heavy traffic.

One netizen said, "All people from neighbouring states have ruined the city of Bengaluru." Said another user, "People from across the country come to Bengaluru for studies, jobs, shelter etc, also talk ill about the city", and asked them to leave.

With many parts of the city witnessing flooding over the past few days, the IT capital was called out for poor infrastructure by citizens on various social media platforms. City locals united against this tarnishing of the city, and asked people to leave. One of the tweets said, "When it rains in Chennai, Delhi, Mumbai, then people pray for Chennai... but when it's raining in Bengaluru, the city is being called the worst city ever seen."

"Our city welcomed them with open arms. Instead of respecting the respect they earned, the money they earned, and the life they lived, they are cursing the city for just one season of rain," wrote another netizen.

Users tweeting on these also faced a backlash for calling the people ungrateful, and making mean comments about the city's migrants.

NEET UG results: K'taka dominates in rankings

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

THREE Karnataka students, including two from Bengaluru, have made it to the top 10 All-India Rankings (AIR) in National Eligibility cum Entrance Test (NEET) UG, results of which were announced on Thursday. Nine students from Karnataka are in the top 50 AIR, with Hrishikesh Nagbhushan Gangule, who was also a Common Entrance Test (CET) topper, scoring 715 marks out of 720 and securing AIR 3. "It's been a very good day for me as this is something I have been working on for the past two years. I was expecting to score more than 700 marks, but after looking at the answer key, I was sure I would get full marks, barring one question which was tricky for most students," Hrishikesh said.

Rucha Pawashe from Belagavi, also scored 715 marks, and bagged AIR 4. The top four candidates have scored the same marks. "We are not sure why the ranks are like that. Technically, we are all supposed to be given first rank. During counselling, they would have given us these ranks based on our age, which is what was done in previous years," Hrishikesh said. Krishna S R, also a CET topper, scored 710, securing AIR 8, alongside nine other students who scored the same marks. Almost 20 per cent of the top 50 ranks have been secured by students from Karnataka.

GRACE MARKS

Hrishikesh Nagbhushan Gangule, who secured rank 3 said that students were expecting grace marks due to a technical glitch on part of National Testing Agency in the Botany paper. "They gave us five statements and asked us to pick the correct one. However, they were all true. But it was a MCQ and none of the choices allowed us to pick all five statements," he said. "They have not given any grace marks. If I had not attempted the question, I would have scored 716 marks," he said.

Siddu takes boat, inspects flooded areas, demands white paper from govt

Congress leader Siddaramaiah inspects a flooded locality along Outer Ring Road near Bellandur on Thursday | EXPRESS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CONGRESS leader Siddaramaiah on Thursday hit out at the BJP government in Karnataka for blaming his party for the recent flooding of Bengaluru's IT corridior. Siddaramaiah visited Epsilon Villa and Rainbow Drive Layout — two of the worst affected areas — on a boat. The former chief minister also visited the family of the 23-year-old woman who was electrocuted in the Whitefield area three days ago.

Slamming the present Basavaraj Bommai government for trying to shift blame on the Congress for the flooding, Siddaramaiah said, "During my tenure as CM, encroachments were identified and efforts were made to clear them. But ever since BJP came in power three years ago, there has been no progress. Had the BJP government acted swiftly, the damage could have been avoided."

He demanded that the government come out with a white paper on clearing encroachments on storm-water drains. He also warned that the Congress would raise the matter in the upcoming legislature session. Siddaramaiah said the recent flooding of the IT corridor has damaged the city's image and affected 'Brand Bengaluru'.

Meanwhile, Outer Ring Road Companies Association ORRCA shared a letter with the media highlighting how successive governments in Karnataka have neglected their plea to fix potholes and prevent flooding of Outer Ring Road. "The letter was addressed to CM in 2017 itself and interestingly it was Siddaramaiah who was at at the helm of affairs," added a member.

Health department ups vigil for disease outbreak

SHILPA P @ Bengaluru

IN the wake of incessant rain in a majority of districts in the state, including Bengaluru, the health department has stepped up preparedness to prevent any impending outbreak of communicable diseases, and manage them in case there is an increase in their incidence. State Health Commissioner D Randeep directed rapid response teams at the district and taluk level to be vigilant. He instructed all healthcare facilities to have a detailed action plan. Medical officers at PHCs/UPHCs are instructed to increase and strengthen disease-specific surveillance activities, monitor and analyse entomological indices/parameters to predict any impending outbreaks so that preventive measures can be implemented well in time. Randeep pointed out that even when floods recede, it is necessary to ensure that surveillance and vector control activities are in place, till the situation returns to normal. In Bengaluru, additional healthcare teams were deployed in all 26 wards of Mahadevapura zone, taking measures for public health, said BBMP special commissioner (health) Dr Trilok Chandra.

Drain system badly mismanaged: Report

The audit report had stated that the drainage system was badly mismanaged by the BBMP's SWD department.

Among the recommendations made were inter-connectivity of water bodies for proper conservation of ecosystem and groundwater; need to factor in rainfall pattern and decrease in vegetation while designing and executing roads and drains to prevent flooding; joint plan of action by BBMP and BWSSB to prevent sewage inflow into SWDs within a specific schedule; immediate action to finalise and notify the revised Master Plan for the City to prevent encroachments of government assets like water bodies and land; and a comprehensive database of SWDs in co-ordination with BDA and BWSSB to ensure a single source for effective planning and management of SWDs.

Vishwanath stressed on taking up redesigning of SWDs on a war-footing to ensure they are ready within six months. "The SWDs we presently have are not designed for storm water control. They have old tanks and rajakaluves with overflowing weirs. They need to be fitted with sluice gates to help keep water in check," he explained.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

09th September: One of the strongest planetary patterns at the moment links Mercury, planet of bright ideas, to Uranus, celestial symbol of change and transformation. So what's the meaning of this? Various phrases come to mind. We can think outside the box and push the envelope! In other words, it's time to find new solutions to old problems.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Given that partners will be in a volatile mood and liable to upset even the most perfect gatherings, your social stars are excellent. Take the initiative and have confidence that your plans will please everyone in the end - even if they don't see eye-to-eye now.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
The Moon is offering the best genuinely friendly celestial alignment you've had all week. The most general advice I can offer is to try to look beyond the material pressures of the last week and plan for a brilliant and brighter life. And look to the future with faith.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Venus is protecting your social life and relationships with colleagues, meaning that you may now be ready to take a few risks. Your approach must be subtle but firm. There is nothing to be gained from storming in with all guns blazing, unduly alarming people who are in a nervous mood.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Personal freedom is the key, although you will have to judge whether you can afford to abandon certain onerous but necessary responsibilities. Perhaps you should keep fundamental personal commitments in place for now, at least until you're sure that there is space for change.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
As emotional turbulence dies down, you will begin to see that life must be tackled on a purely practical basis, doing what needs to be done in an unfussy and unpretentious manner. No frills are needed, so don't get seduced into unnecessary sidelines.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Domestic affairs occupy your time, and family members will demand your attention. Actually, although a great many important developments seem to be in the offing, if you concentrate on personal affairs you should avoid emotional tangles.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You're being encouraged to try out new solutions to old problems. From a close look at your current stars, I'd say that you need to focus on the untried and original, rather than on outmoded ways of doing things. Get on and give up all those bad habits that you know have been holding you back.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
It's been a bit of a serious week so far, what with turbulent planetary influences causing certain plans to be postponed or changed. However, now that the Moon is moving into lighter regions of the zodiac you can let up the pressure. You can even allow partners to look after the practical details.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Celestially speaking, the Moon is under control. In your private affairs this means that what you say goes, at least as far as home affairs are concerned. Set a generous example and hold out the promise of emotional rewards if you want other people to follow your lead.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Make every effort possible to get in touch with old friends over the next few days. You'll be pleasantly surprised by the emotional support that such contacts can bring, and will soon be very much happier. You will, however, not always feel in control of your own affairs.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Your stars are fortunate, but wasteful. Although a number of areas of your solar chart are showing difficulties, others are considerably easier. The part of your chart symbolising your work, for example, is indicating great promise if you only give up a few stale habits.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Professional Pisceans can only gain from today's intriguing planetary movements. The chances for commensurate financial rewards are still good but, by now, the arrangements should be complete. The last thing you want is too many loose ends causing complications.

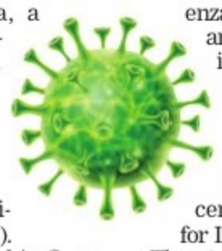
Over 75% kids had got, or were exposed to Covid

Paediatric sero survey shows Omicron and its sub-lineages dominated cases

SHILPA P @Bengaluru

A HEALTH department survey has revealed that over 75 per cent of children surveyed had been exposed to or infected with Covid-19 previously, showing how vulnerable the very young were to the virus.

The department released the much-awaited report of the Covid-19 paediatric sero survey, 'Assessing the burden of Covid-19 in children aged 6 to 14 years in Karnataka, a cross-sectional survey'. It was conducted by the State Surveillance Unit of the department from June 6 to 14, based on recommendations of the Covid Technical Advisory Committee (TAC).



An IGG (Immunoglobin G -- a type of antibody which indicates previous infection or vaccination) test conducted on 5,358 non-vaccinated children has indicated that 75.38 per cent of children were exposed to or infected with the Covid-19 virus earlier. The exposure/infection rate among girls was 77.83 per cent while it was 73.02 per cent among boys.

During the study period, only 13.23 per cent (709) of the children were symptomatic. Among 5,278 valid samples, only two were positive for RT-PCR -- one symptomatic case in Udupi and one asymptomatic case in Chitradurga. During genomic sequencing among children positive for RT-PCR, the Omicron sub-lineage variant BA.5 was found in symptomatic, and BA2.10 was found among the asymptomatic. Among 584 symptomatic but Covid-negative children sent for an ILI panel of tests (Influenza A, Influenza B, H1N1, H3N2, RSVA and RSVB) to know the incidence of other influenza infections, as many as 32 (6.44 per cent) were found positive for Influenza A, H1N1 and one (0.2 per cent) was found positive for Influenza B.

The study was conducted at 232 health facilities in 38 units across the state, including BBMP. It was done among 5,358 non-vaccinated children (50.9 per cent boys and 49.1 per cent girls) including 31 per cent aged 6-8 years, 35.8 per cent aged 9-11 years and 33.2 per cent aged 12-14 years; 33.3 per cent were from urban slums, 38.3 per cent from rural areas and others from urban non-slums. In all, 93.5 per cent were schoolchildren.

NIA COURT HAS POWERS TO TRY NON-UAPA CASES, SAYS HC

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court has dismissed the petition filed by Sayyed Sohel Torvi, an accused in the DJ Halli and KG Halli riots case, questioning the rejection by the Special Court for NIA cases of his application seeking transfer of his case to the court with jurisdiction to try IPC offences.

"In this case, it is not in dispute that the petitioner was part of the mob that had indulged in acts which are punishable under the IPC as well as the UAPA. Therefore, under Section 223 of the CrPC, the two offences can be triable by the NIA Court. Section 14 of the NIA Act empowers the Special Court to try any other offence, with which the accused may be charged, in the same trial, which may be connected to the case," said Justice M Nagaprasanna while confirming the order passed by the Special Court.

The Special Court rejected Torvi's application on September 20, 2021, on the grounds that the court did have power to try the offences, both related to the IPC and the UAPA, if they are connected to the same incident. The riots occurred on August 11, 2020, following protest by a group of people at Kadugondanahalli demanding the arrest of Naveen, nephew of MLA Akhanda Srinivasa Murthy, for allegedly posting a derogatory message on his Facebook page. The case was transferred to the National Investigation Agency in September 2020. The petitioner was arrayed as accused No.137 for the offences under IPC.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

MINISTER for Health and Family Welfare Dr K Sudhakar announced that the State government has approved and passed an order to provide monetary aid for the treatment of SC/ST patients suffering from diseases categorised as 'Rare Diseases' and 'High-Cost Diseases' at private hospitals on Thursday. This monetary aid will be provided by the state government through the Suvarna Arogya Suraksha Trust (SAST) of the health department, under the Ayushman Bharat Arogya Karnataka (ABARK) scheme, by utilising unspent fund allocation under Scheduled Caste Sub-Plan (SCSP) and Tribal Sub-Plan (TSP). The government has even capped treatment cost of these rare and high-cost diseases.

It is estimated to treat over 465 families a year under the SCSP/TSP at an estimated Rs 4.02 crore. Dr Sudhakar said a total of Rs 23.18 crore of SCSP and TSP fund allocation is unspent, and would be used to fund the new scheme.

"With this, the government will provide Rs 1 lakh for immunosuppressive diseases, Rs 30,000 per admission for high and supportive therapy for rare diseases, Rs 2 lakh for renal transplant, Rs 7 lakh and Rs 21 lakh for autologous and allogenic bone marrow transplant respectively, Rs 1.5 lakh for robotic surgeries, Rs 10,000 for PET scan. NEW BODY WILL HANDLE B'LURU TRAFFIC

Masterplan will be formulated; Railways, Metro, NHAI, BBMP, BDA, BMRDA, PWD to be stakeholders

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

WITH traffic congestion plaguing the IT capital, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and Union Minister for Roads and Highways Nitin Gadkari brainstormed on ideas by professional agencies and officials to find solutions. After the meeting on Thursday, Bommai announced that a separate authority to manage Bengaluru traffic density will be set up, and a bill will be tabled in the coming legislature session.

Work will be carried out by the National Highways Authority of India, Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP), Bengaluru Development Authority (BDA), Bengaluru Metropolitan Region Development Authority (BMRDA) and Public Works Department (PWD), and most of the problems will be resolved if a comprehensive masterplan is formulated. "The Railways and Metro will also be made part of the authority for traffic management in and around Bengaluru. The Centre's cooperation and coordination was sought as several national highways pass through Bengaluru. Construction of roads is very important to solve the problem of traffic density," Bommai said. It is planned to build a railway station at Byappanahalli, using the multi-purpose pillar construction technology that is used for the Metro, flyovers and roads, and which reduces the extent of land acquisition. A plan will be formulated after discussing it with international experts, he added.

Basavaraj Bommai, Chief Minister

"The Union minister has promised to link the Satellite Town Ring Road (STRR) which connects to Chennai, to interstate and national highways. Problems of connecting roads to Bengaluru and the Pune-Bengaluru National Highway were also discussed. The ministry secretary was asked to address the issue immediately," the chief minister said. A link stretch of 40-50km will be commissioned to join the Pune-Bengaluru NH coming from Chennai, to provide direct connectivity. Gadkari has promised to examine this project, Bommai claimed.

On the Bengaluru-Mysuru Express Highway, Gadkari issued directions for a new UGD system in places where rainwater accumulates. "The Union minister has responded positively to a letter for regular works under the Central Road Fund, funds connected with it and announcement of additional highways," he informed.

He said the Hubballi-Dharwad bypass construction has been handed over to a private company, the tender process is over and work will start in 2-3 months.

'States fail to use Central funds for ROV project'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

UNION Minister for Road Transport and Highways Nitin Gadkari on Thursday took strong exception to states not being proactive in utilising the Central Road Fund (CRF) as only six states had signed the Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) for the Rs 16,000-crore remotely operated vehicles (ROV) project.

"States have a stake in the funds, and the finance minister has given the nod for utilisation. States need to take ownership as it will ultimately benefit them," he suggested, emphasising collaboration among all stakeholders for qualitative reforms.

Inaugurating the two-day national conference 'Manthan -- Idea to Action', he said, "We should overcome differences and not think in silos. All stakeholders should understand each other's issues, and with mutual consent focus on planning futuristic policies so the country's transport is run only on fuel made in India. Prime Minister Modi has two dreams for the country -- Atmanirbhar Bharat and $5 trillion economy -- and we have the responsibility to fulfil them."

In a reference to heavy rainfall, Gadkari asked stakeholders to come out with innovative technology to check damages and reduce the maintenance cost of highways.

An integrated approach is essential to reduce logistics costs from 16 per cent to 10 per cent (China is at 10 per cent, Europe at 12 per cent). The concept of bus-ports as centres of growth is growing, and it is imperative to link different modes of transportation while improving road infrastructure with new technologies, he said. Gadkari informed that the ministry, along with the Ministry of Environment and Forests, has come up with a 'Tree Bank' project wherein NHAI will plant trees along highways, helping in the absorption of carbon dioxide.

Minister of State for Road Transport and Highways General Dr V K Singh, hinting at removing toll collection booths, said, "An intelligent and integrated system can read number plates, and the toll can be charged on kilometre basis."

NHAI Chairperson Alka Upadhyaya said, "Manthan is a platform that will deliberate and visualise the future of road transport, besides initiating collaboration between government and industry to develop infrastructure."

RAIN RAGE

BJP leader slams Pai, blames IT sector for encroachments

MOHAMMED YACOOB @ Bengaluru

BENGALURU South district BJP president NR Ramesh on Thursday slammed IT industry veteran TV Mohandas Pai, alleging that IT/BT companies had encroached the city's lakes and Rajakaluves.

In the strongly-worded open letter to Pai, Ramesh stated that the 'Save Bangalore' campaign, which is run by the former, should be launched against those who have encroached on the Rajakaluves and lakes in the areas of the Electronic Industry Association (ECLIA), Outer Ring Road Companies Association (ORRCA), and ITPL, under his own leadership. His sharp response comes following Pai's comment that the recent havoc (floods) in Bengaluru was due to various factors, including bad governance, corruption and a lack of urban governance.

Highest rainfall

He further alleged that IT firms have defrauded the Bengaluru Municipal Corporation of hundreds of crores of property tax each year, by hiding the information of around 50 per cent of their built-up areas. Ramesh stated that the government has given over Rs 2.5 lakh crore worth of land to the IT sector and tech companies and about 45,000 km of roads were cut for Optic Fibre Cables, which cost Rs 3,000 crore for the BBMP to fix from taxpayer money.

"People cannot blackmail the government by telling them they would shift to Telangana. Here, the city suffered damage due to extreme rainfall which was the highest in the last 70 years," Ramesh added.

He also mentioned in the letter that he would also like to inform them of the fact that several IT giants have encroached royal canals connecting to Giddanakere and Kundalahalli Lakes, apart from setting up buildings.

Letter full of lies, says Pai

Responding to Ramesh's letter, Mohandas Pai alleged that it has no truth, and said that Bengaluru has 21 lakh IT employees. In Karnataka, 60 per cent of taxes come from Bengaluru, and the IT sector is one of the major contributors. "IT firms occupy buildings as tenants. Question the owners who built them and the politicians who sanctioned the projects. Here, no one is promoting Telangana, but one is only engaged in promoting Bengaluru for the last 30 years. Instead of attacking, let him (Ramesh) state what is his contribution to Bengaluru," Pai shot back.

Katti's death huge loss to state BJP: Arun Singh

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Belagavi

A DAY after former minister Umesh Katti was laid to rest at Bellad Bagewadi, several BJP leaders headed by state party in-charge Arun Singh met his family members in his native village on Thursday, and expressed their condolences.

Speaking to reporters later, Singh recalled the concern Katti had for the state's development. "Katti had given several suggestions for developmental work to be undertaken in various parts of the state and also towards strengthening the party here. Katti was a kind of 'happy-go-lucky' person,'' Singh said.

Singh called his sudden demise a huge loss to the state BJP, and said the late minister served society and people for as long as four decades. "A book on his 40 years of political life should be brought out. The people must come to know about such leaders' contribution and vision," he felt.

The other leaders of the BJP who accompanied Singh included ministers Dr K Sudhakar, Munirathna, MTB Nagaraj and Byrathi Basavaraj.

Nagaraj described the thoughts of Katti as unique and said his death had been an irreparable loss to the BJP.

'Katti's dream garden will come true'

Recalling the dream of former minister Umesh Katti to develop a garden on the lines of Brindavan Gardens near the Hidkal Dam in Hukkeri, Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar expressed confidence that CM Basavaraj Bommai would certainly take up the work on the garden. Speaking to mediapersons at Belagavi Airport on Thursday, Sudhakar said the party leaders would put pressure on the CM to develop the garden.

CENTRAL TEAMS STUDY RAIN DAMAGE, TO ASSESS NEEDED RELIEF

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hubballi, Madikeri, Kalaburagi, Mangaluru

THE inter-ministerial Central teams formed to assess the damage to property and infrastructure in Karnataka, due to the recent rain and flooding, visited several districts of the state on Thursday. The teams visited Dharwad, Kodagu, Kalaburagi, and Dakshina Kannada, among others, where members visited farms, schools, homes and villages, and took stock.

In Dharwad, the team inspected Kiresur, Hebsur, Kalawad and Yamanur villages, and assessed the flood-hit areas. The damage assessment report will be submitted to the Union Government within 10 days, said Ashok Kumar from the Union Jal Shakti Ministry.

The members inspected agricultural fields, damaged houses, school buildings, roads and bridges. "The team has been assessing the damage caused by the deluge, and the Dharwad district administration has submitted its report. After evaluation, we will submit a comprehensive report to the Centre in 10 days," he said.

Dharwad Deputy Commissioner Gurudatta Hegde said that from June to August-end, crops in 97,000 ha of land have been damaged due to heavy rain, while in the last eight days alone, around 18,000 ha of crops were damaged due to floods. Also, 1,172 houses have been damaged. "Three people have lost their lives, while 410 schools and 160 anganwadis have suffered damage," he added.

Kodagu

Meanwhile, a Central team led by Karnataka State Disaster Management Authority Commissioner Dr Manoj Rajan visited several rain-hit areas in Kodagu district. While the district administration estimated the damage at Rs 83.93 crore, the team's report will determine the amount of needed relief funds.

The team visited affected areas mostly in north Kodagu limits, including Madenadu, Koyanadu and Sampaje, and recorded the damage to NH-275 at Kartoji. "The Central team assessment report on damages will be submitted to the Home Ministry, and compensation will be released under the NDRF," confirmed DC Dr BC Sateesha.

Kalaburagi

In Kalaburagi, a Central team led by Director of Ministry of Agriculture and Farmer Welfare DK Manoharan, with under-secretary in the Ministry of Rural Development SB Tiwari and Scientific Officer of Karnataka State Natural Disaster Management Centre S Jagadish, visited rain-affected Honna Kiranagi village of Kalaburagi taluk and Jewargi town, and inspected the damage caused to crops and houses.

Deputy Commissioner Yeshwant Gurkar told the team that crops standing in 1,11,400 hectares were affected, and 805 houses were damaged due to heavy rain and flooding in the month of August in the district. Six people have died in rain-related incidents this year.

Dakshina Kannada

A team also visited several flood-hit areas in the Dakshina Kannada district on Thursday, including beaches affected by sea erosion, and roads and bridges damaged due to incessant rain. Dakshina Kannada DC Dr Rajendra KV said a proposal of Rs 311 crore has been already sent to the state government as a immediate flood relief.

The teams are expected to visit other rain-ravaged districts, and a detailed assessment report is likely to be submitted in the coming week.

CONG DEFAMING 'BRAND BENGALURU', SAYS SURYA

BENGALURU: Bengaluru South MP Tejasvi Surya on Thursday said that the Congress and some vested interests, are trying to defame 'Brand Bengaluru' over the recent floods. Surya, also BJP's Yuva Morcha national president, blamed the Congress leaders for the flooding, alleging that they had encroached lands in and around Bellandur resulting in the deluge. "Congress leaders should know who has encroached the lakes and rajakaluves. My Lok Sabha constituency has been unaffected by and large (in the floods) and hence I took part in Ganesha utsav activities," he said. The MP had come under severe criticism, especially on social media, for relishing dose and promoting an eatery in his constituency amid the rain fury. "I do not want to react to such trolls," he maintained, adding that things have been returning to normalcy even in the flood affected areas of the city.

Circular stresses on eight-hour working hours

THE state government revised minimum wages for 82 categories that come under working class which include agriculture labourers, tailors, scavengers, gardeners and weavers. The minimum wages are fixed once in five years. This year, it was done in the last week of July. As per the latest revision, it varies from Rs 14,000 to Rs 18,000 per month.

The circular stresses on eight-hour working hours. If the employers extract work less than eight hours a day, they have the provision to pay wages on an hourly basis. If the workers are made to work for more than eight hours, they should be paid more for every extra hour. Also, in a month, workers should be given leave for four days. If the employers make the workers work on their days of leave, they should be compensated.

The circular adds that the salaries/wages should be paid by 5th of every month. Also, the employer should pay their share of ESI and Provident Fund to the workers every month and records of the same should be maintained. The employers have also been directed to adopt bio-metric attendance system for their workers.

'Lack of interest in Kannada among officials must change'

ENS @ Shivamogga

THE Chairman of Kannada Development Authority (KDA) TS Nagabharana said that IAS and IPS officers in the state are not showing interest in implementing Kannada in the administration processes. He said that to implement 100 percent usage of Kannada in administration, the mindset of the officials has to change.

Nagabharana was speaking at a 'meet the press' organised by Media House in Shivamogga on Thursday. He said that the KDA has given notice to around 110 such officers. He added that officers from other states are neglecting Kannada. "With no other choice, they learn basic Kannada and make mistakes while writing. The authorities have served notices to point out officials who commit such mistakes. We have considered the issue on a serious note and are issuing notices to department heads," he said.

Nagabharana said that a bill has been drafted for the development and implementation of Kannada. To lay stress on the usage of Kannada in education, administration and employment, Kannada Bhasha Samagra Abhivrudhi Vidheyaka (Bill) has been drafted.

NIA raids SDPI leader Riyaz Farangipete in DK

ENS @ Mangaluru

RIYAZ Farangipete, national secretary of SDPI, was raided by the NIA on Thursday. Riyaz's house on BC Road, on the outskirts of Mangaluru, was raided by NIA sleuths in the wee hours of Thursday.

According to local police sources, the raid was carried out in connection with a case in Bihar in July this year, for alleged conspiracy to disrupt a rally of Prime Minister Narendra Modi. "His house at Parlya on BC Road was raided around 4.30 am, and the raid continued till 1.30 pm. NIA officers seized some documents, and left after questioning him," said a police officer. However, neither the police nor NIA officials were willing to provide any further details about the raid.

"A person named Jalaluddin and others were arrested in connection with the threat to PM Modi in Bihar. Hence, there are allegations that he (Riyaz) has a link to this case," informed a local police officer.

Riyaz, who spoke to reporters after the raid, claimed that the NIA raided his residence in connection with a 'false case' registered in Bihar in July this year.

"I have cooperated with the NIA. In Bihar, the agency arrested a few people, including the Patna district SDPI secretary. I am in-charge of Bihar state, and hence, the NIA has raided me. After 2014, all Central agencies, including the NIA, are under the BJP, and are working as per its instructions, instead of working as per the Constitution," he alleged. Riyaz added that NIA officials seized his and his wife's mobile phones, t-shirts and handbills of the party, and a few documents.

Multiple locations searched

THE NIA shared a press release stating that searches were conducted at multiple locations in Bihar and Tamil Nadu, besides Karnataka, in connection with the PFI conspiracy case in Patna. It conducted searches at 20 locations linked with the accused and suspects in districts, including Dakshina Kannada, in the case pertaining to the involvement of PFI in alleged anti-national activities.

Following heavy rains in Karnataka, Krishna and Penna river basins have been receiving heavy inflows over the past few days. An alert has been sounded in the region and first flood warning is likely to be issued at Prakasam barrage on Thursday night

Allegations unrelated to 40% commission charges: KAMS

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

GENERAL secretary of Associated Managements of Primary and Secondary Schools, Karnataka (KAMS) Shashi Kumar on Thursday said that clubbing the allegations of 40 per cent commission with graft in the education department are baseless.

"We had put out our own complaints and issues related to corruption and bribery in the department. It is unfortunate that the 40 per cent allegations are being clubbed with our complaints. They are baseless. We condemn those allegations. We have given proof of our allegations to the education department and they have agreed to look into them," Kumar told TNIE. Earlier, both KAMS and the Recognised Unaided Private Schools Association (RUPSA) had given separate letters on complaints and issues they are facing with the education department.

The Department of Public Instruction had asked for documents from the association. "These issues were raised many times earlier. The documents include court papers to prove our allegations against certain officers. There are many issues to be rectified, especially at BEO and DDPI offices, where no proper decisions are taken with regards to old and existing schools," he said.

Public Instruction Commissioner R Vishal told TNIE that examination of the documents submitted by KAMS on Thursday are underway.

Is Raj Bhavan an untouchable place: TS Guv

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Hyderabad

QUESTIONING whether Raj Bhavan had become an 'untouchable place' for the State government, Telangana Governor Tamilisai Soundararajan has alleged that her office was humiliated and discriminated against, for most of the time. She declared that nobody could hide the facts while going through the pages of Telangana's history, that a woman Governor was subjected to discrimination for three years.

She was speaking after releasing a book on her work as the first citizen of the State, marking completion of three years in office, at Raj Bhavan on Thursday. "It has been a curse for women coming up in politics that they will be humiliated on social media and elsewhere. I faced such situations when I was growing as a politician. I never used to be bothered because nobody can shatter my strength or my commitment to the people. But discrimination against my office or any other office after 75 years of Independence is not acceptable," she said.

Recalling how she was not allowed to hoist the national flag at the Parade Grounds on Republic Day, how the Governor's address was skipped at the beginning of the Budget session, and how persistently protocol was not being followed in receiving her, she said that she left it to the people to know and judge if it was right to not give a Governor those opportunities.

She recalled how the government had neither said yes or no to her request for a helicopter to visit the Medaram Sammakka-Saralamma Jatara till the last minute, which had left her with no other option but to undertake the eight-hour travel by road.

EPS-OPS face off over party HQ intensifies

Palaniswami visits office, Panneerselvam to follow

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

THE factional tussle in the AIADMK gained momentum on Thursday with Edappadi K Palaniswami visiting the party headquarters amid rousing reception from party cadres and his adversary O Panneerselvam declaring his intention to visit the party office soon. The embattled AIADMK coordinator, OPS, has sought police protection to visit the party HQ expressing apprehension that anti-social elements might trigger violence.

Palaniswami, who visited the Lloyds Road office for the first time after being elected as the AIADMK interim general secretary on July 11 at the party's general council meeting, said the process of electing the general secretary of the party would begin soon. He also said the party's two-leaves symbol cannot be frozen as most of the general council members, MPs, MLAs, and office-bearers of the party are with him.

Responding to a question, EPS said party cadre will not be ready to readmit Panneerselvam even if he apologises for his anti-party activities as he is adept in changing colours faster than a chameleon and has never been loyal to late leader J Jayalalithaa or the party.

"How will the party cadre forgive Panneerselvam who led a gang of rowdies to attack and loot the party headquarters which is considered a sacred place by them? When his faction merged with us, he was given the key post in the party. But he acted with a mean mind and as a benami of the DMK to split the party. How can AIADMK workers forgive him," asked EPS.

'Increase in aerosols will impact public health'

ATMOSPHERIC aerosols are known to play a crucial role in cloud formation processes by acting as cloud condensation nuclei (CCN). They define the droplet size distribution forming rain pattern. For a given amount of water vapour content in the atmosphere, lesser number of large cloud droplets will form if the number of aerosols is less.

For the same amount of water vapour content, a large number of smaller cloud droplets will form when number of aerosols is high, which in polluted conditions can lead to heavy rainfall within a short period of time.

Speaking to TNIE, the scientist said that the "aerosol loading in India is increasing in the last 10 years because of anthropogenic activities. There is a two per cent per annum increase in the loading of the aerosols in the atmosphere in the Indian subcontinent. This could be because of anthropocentric activities coupled with unsustainable landscape planning and urbanisation etc," said the meteorologist.

Satheesh cautioned, "Increase in the number of aerosols in the atmosphere will not only alter the rainfall pattern, it will also adversely impact public health, leading to increased number of people falling sick with respiratory disorders, block solar radiation hitting the earth thereby impacting climate and agriculture, by default," added Satheesh. "Presence of a large number of aerosols in the atmosphere will also impact satellite remote sensing of the earth's surface," he added.

Satheesh said that though there are enough policies for pollution control and regulation of construction activities, enforcement is a problem. "Research should provide a scientific basis for governments at all levels to develop climate-related policies. Linking disaster management with artificial intelligence (AI) is another aspect, which needs attention with a changing climate," said the noted scientist.

BLAMING MIGRANTS FOR BENGALURU FLOOD MESS BASELESS AND INHUMAN

The flooding havoc across the city, especially along the IT corridor, has given rise to a disturbing xenophobic demand, with outraged Bengalureans blaming workers from other states for the mess and demanding they leave the city. #GetLostMigrants and #LeaveBengaluru are trending on Twitter as a backlash to videos posted by 'migrant workers' that the city is not fit to live in and regret settling down here. Native citizens are pushing unreasonable arguments about how 'outsiders' have destroyed Bengaluru, are disloyal to their adopted city, and have failed to adopt the language and culture.

This 'us versus them' battle on social media is surely uncalled for. The influx of software and other professionals has turned Bengaluru into a congested megapolis of choking drains, crumbling infrastructure, jammed roads and high pollution levels. But they are not responsible for the state of the city today. Bengaluru is but the Holy Grail with its fabled climate, IT and knowledge parks, educational and medical facilities, open-hearted and welcoming people, and it attracts people from all states and countries. The 'migrants', as they are so disparagingly termed, have also contributed to the economic boom and Brand Bangalore. The cost of living has no doubt shot up, but this diverse talent pool has given the city its cosmopolitan sheen, and its original inhabitants are also reaping the benefits.

Those who yearn for the city of yore, with its abundant greenery and lakes, should realise that it's the politicians, bureaucrats, builders and civic officials who have let the citizens down. Companies which invested in the city and set up shop created a demand for commercial and residential real estate—how this demand was met is a well-known story of avarice and corruption. It resulted in galloping, unplanned growth, destruction of lakes and land grabbing. These professionals who have settled along the IT belt and paid taxes have lost their dream homes and belongings. While this show of affronted Kannada pride is understandable, it should not manifest in hatred towards our country folk. Instead, citizens who love the city should rise and demand action against the guilty. It is a shame for Bengaluru. Let us not shame ourselves further with this parochial attitude.

REVIEW WORKLOAD TO AVOID STRESS INJURIES

As the T20 World Cup looms, all eyes focus on pacer Jasprit Bumrah. He was rested for the Asia Cup after straining his back. For Indian cricket fans, his fitness has become a national passion—as intense as the matches India plays. The Asia Cup debacle showed the importance of those toe-crushing yorkers and tight bowling spells only Bumrah has mastered to torment batters across continents in any condition. Injury has not afflicted cricket alone. Take the case of multiple Olympic and World Championships medallist P V Sindhu. She withdrew from the Worlds due to a stress fracture after the Commonwealth Games gold. Olympic champion javelin thrower Neeraj Chopra had to skip the CWG after his silver at the World Championships in July due to a groin strain. He got back into rehabilitation at a world-class facility in Germany. He returned a month later to compete at the Lausanne Diamond League last month and qualify for the final in Zurich. Despite getting the best fitness support, sports at the highest level can kill.

This leads us to two aspects of modern sport—injury and workload management. They are an integral part of sportspersons. The calendar is getting gruelling, and so is the pressure to perform. After Covid, the calendar has gotten cramped with back-to-back tournaments across all sports. A top international cricketer like Bumrah plays close to 200 days of cricket, including the Indian Premier League. A top badminton player, to maintain ranking, has to play as many tournaments as possible. It's similar to most professional sports. Injury management over the years has improved drastically, even in India. BCCI has a system considered one of the best in the world. There are regular fitness tests and assessments, and there is little chance of players hiding injuries. Even in Olympic sports, systems are in place. The Sports Authority of India has introduced a Central Athlete Injury Management System to monitor players' injury, assessment and recovery. There are support groups that provide physios and masseurs to elite athletes. It's a beginning, but a lot more can be done.

To avoid injuries, the cricket board or the sports federations must step back and rethink. They must prioritise tournaments, assess the vulnerability of athletes and chalk out a programme that would balance the workload and stop burn-outs. After all, sport is the ultimate loser if top athletes fall prey to injuries.

QUICK TAKE

CRACKING EARLY ON CRACKERS

Firecrackers stand banned in Delhi since Wednesday. The order comes early and stays till January 1. Diwali is on October 24.

No production, sale or use of all crackers is allowed to maintain safe air pollution levels. But all crackers include green crackers? That's the twist. Delhi Police is currently advertising temporary licences for green crackers. The last date for applications is September 9. That's enough to spark political friction. The apex court must clarify early to avoid confusion. The real answer, however, is an enlightened society. For, it's impossible to stop people from bursting, say, crackers hoarded in homes.

Enlightened policy demands scientific credibility, financial feasibility, operational steerability and political viability

NO STRAIGHT ROAD FROM RESEARCH TO POLICY

DR K SRINATH REDDY

Cardiologist, epidemiologist and President, Public Health Foundation of India (PHFI)

Researchers in academia frequently complain that results of diligently conducted studies are not avidly absorbed and immediately applied by policymakers. This discontent is most often expressed in the domains of public health and related social sciences. Policymakers, on the other hand, complain that researchers do not address complex real-world questions and fail to provide readily implementable solutions.

The purpose of public health research is to provide evidence-informed, context-relevant, resource-optimised, culturally compatible and equity-promoting recommendations for policy and practice. All these criteria are not absolute. The context may be changed through other societal interventions. Resources can be enhanced to make intended interventions possible. Culture is dynamic and changes over time. However, emphasis on evidence and equity should remain the sine qua non of policy recommendations in public health. Policymakers are concerned about the necessity, implementability, scalability and sustainability of any intervention. Enlightened policy demands scientific credibility, financial feasibility, operational steerability and political viability of a proposed programme. This requires information from many streams of enquiry: biomedical, epidemiological and clinical research on the problem; health economics research on the cost-effectiveness and affordability of the proposed solution; implementation research in health systems to demonstrate deliverability, and social science research that gauges the attitudes of policymakers, health system managers, other stakeholders and the public towards the proposed measure. Researchers seldom collaborate to create such a confluence of multidisciplinary knowledge.

Often, scientific methods adopted by researchers look for the independent effect of a specific intervention on a clearly defined primary outcome. For this, they try to exclude or minimise the impact of other factors that can influence the outcome, while those variables too are at play during the study. While providing a good measure of association with one variable, such a narrow focus delivers an incomplete assessment of the cumulative contributors to the outcome. Multicomponent interventions are better to study multifactorial influences. Quite often, health system studies require both quantitative as well as qualitative research methods. Such 'mixed methods' research helps to identify what is not working well, while providing insights into why it is not working well.

SOURAV ROY

To represent the real world, research must ensure diversity in the study population. Researchers may prefer to study a selective, homogenous population group for reasons of access, ease of recruitment and follow-up, efficiency, and economy of conducting the study with limited resources. However, the results of the study may not be generalisable to a larger, heterogeneous population. Single studies also run the risk of producing results by chance alone, while small sample sizes will place a wide uncertainty band across a seemingly impressive study result. A large, multicentric study, with diverse population groups that are well represented, will be convincing to policymakers.

Policymakers also demand early access to research results, so that they can choose among possible options. Traditionally, researchers conduct studies that involve long periods of data collection and analysis. Often, they need to publish in peer-reviewed academic journals before they can share the results with policymakers or the public. Policymakers cannot wait long for results. Indeed, the situation may even change meanwhile due to other measures initiated by them. A balance may have to be struck, where routinely gathered and readily available data within the health system are objectively analysed while designing studies which can report on meaningful intermediate outcomes prior to the final result.

For establishing better and faster communication of research results between policymakers and researchers, knowledge-transfer platforms have been proposed. However, this suggests a post-facto consultation. It is better to consult at the very inception of the study, so that researchers can understand the priorities of policymakers and judge how well their research matches those priorities. Policymakers too will get a better understanding of the purpose, process and products of the proposed research.

It is even better if policymakers or health system managers agree to join the advisory committee that periodically reviews the project's progress. This will foster better understanding of the proposed research among the potential end-users and facilitate early uptake of useful products. Involvement of community representatives too, in such bodies, will provide ground reality checks to researchers. It will also inspire confidence among policymakers that the community would be receptive to a policy change that the research may generate.

Knowledge for policy making comes from many sources. Tacit knowledge provides a useful input for enabling early policy decisions. In the initial stages of the Covid-19 pandemic, WHO and CDC of the USA did not advise masks for public use. This was despite the experiential wisdom available from countries in South-east Asia and East Asia which had combated earlier outbreaks of respiratory viruses. Along with fervour for hard evidence, researchers must evaluate knowledge from multiple streams to shape policy. Accurate communication of research results to policymakers—in jargon free language—is a talent that researchers must acquire. Brevity is essential. Policymakers will want to know: what the problem is, who is most affected, how widespread it is and why it is important (in terms of public health, economic and social impact). They will also want to know what the proposed policy intervention is, what the impact is, how sustainable it is, and the timeframe required to achieve this impact. Also important is the question around the source of financial and human resources, and who will support or not support the initiative. Researchers must present the answers to these with confidence and clarity.

One question that policymakers have on their minds, but do not explicitly ask, is: "How will it make me look?" Researchers must address this politely in their presentation, profiling the credit that will potentially accrue from the proposed action, and the possible discredit from inaction. That may be the clincher!

CONGRESS' NATIONAL TAG AND HOLDING GROUND IN SOUTH

SANDIP GHOSE

Current Affairs Commentator

When discussing the state of the Congress party, the focus is usually on its dwindling fortunes in the Northern states, especially the Hindi heartland. However, the progressive decimation of the Congress in South India should be of equal, if not greater, concern. It may not be an exaggeration to state that the inclusion of "National" in its name—Indian National Congress—drew a great deal of legitimacy from the long list of stalwarts from South India in its ranks both before and after Independence. A claim that other so-called "national" parties cannot easily make. Therefore, the Congress' decline down South is significant to India's federal polity.

After Independence, the Congress was cast as a mirror image of the Indian federation itself. The "Pradesh" Congress Committees were empowered and operated largely as autonomous units under an umbrella franchise of the Indian National Congress. This allowed room for developing regional leaders of stature who were also stars in the national pantheon. The list is long and illustrious, from C Rajagopalachari and K Kamaraj to S Nijalingappa and P V Narasimha Rao. The Congress has also given the country a fair share of presidents from the South.

To date, none of the states in the south of the Vindhyas has had a Congress chief minister. Other than Tamil Nadu, where it is a junior partner of the DMK, it has lost power in all other states. The Congress can hope to make a comeback only in Karnataka in the foreseeable future. Kerala handed over a second term to Pinarayi Vijayan in the face of anti-incumbency. The most disappointing story so far has been that of the erstwhile undivided Andhra Pradesh, where the Congress was the dominant party since the state's inception. But after bifurcation into AP and Telangana, it abdicated the ground to the YSR Congress and the Telugu Desam (TDP). In 2009, 33 out of 42 Lok Sabha MPs from united Andhra Pradesh belonged to the Congress. Currently, it does not have a single elected representative in the state, either in the assembly or Lok Sabha. The situation in Telangana is no better, with only six MLAs and three MPs.

The genesis of the Congress' receding fortunes in the South may be traced to the fallout between Indira Gandhi and the "syndicate" led by K Kamaraj that led to the split of the Congress party in 1969. It probably reached the lowest point during the tenure of P V Narasimha Rao, who Sonia Gandhi never considered to be the rightful occupant of the prime minister's office.

Post-Narasimha Rao, Sonia Gandhi adopted a transactional approach toward the South. In Tamil Nadu, the Congress reconciled to playing second fiddle to the DMK based on a quid pro quo of plum ministries at the Centre in return for Lok Sabha seats from the state. Andhra Pradesh under Y S Rajasekhara Reddy was a "cash-cow" until it was botched up by his untimely death and the glorious mishandling of the Telangana separation. Kerala has always been comfortable because none of its leaders could challenge the supremacy of the Gandhi family—probably constrained by language. Karnataka has so far remained a level playing ground with some strong local leaders. There, too, she has been amenable to unequal alliances for power, as we saw after the last assembly elections.

PIC: VIKARTHIKALAGU

> The genesis of the Congress' receding fortunes in the South may be traced to the fallout between Indira Gandhi and the "syndicate" led by K Kamaraj that led to the split of the Congress party in 1969

The national situation has radically changed with serial defeats in the rest of the country. In the 2019 elections, more than 50% of the Congress Lok Sabha tally (26 out of 44) came from the South. No politician has any illusion about the Congress coming to power at the Centre in 2024. Therefore, it would have little to offer potential allies. Even existing allies like the DMK will be less generous, with little to expect in return. This was already evident in its seat negotiations for the 2021 assembly and the reluctance of the YSR Congress, the TDP and the TRS to have any ties with it.

There are two obvious consequences of the Congress' diminishing strength in the South. First is the rise of new regional parties like the YSR Congress and the TRS, with older ones like the DMK becoming more strident in asserting their sub-national identity. Second is the effort of the BJP to make organic inroads in the South, sometimes by stealth—using the religion card. This is bound to invite pushbacks from regional parties, adding further fuel to the sub-national impulses. In its anxiety to oppose the BJP nationally, the Congress sometimes walks naively into troubled waters, as Rahul Gandhi recently did by revisiting the constitutional concept of India as "a union of states".

To arrest this trend, the South needs a pan-Indian centrist party with secular credentials that can tango with the regional parties. The Congress is still well placed to do that. The equity of the Congress and the Gandhi family, particularly, remain high in South India. Thus, whenever the Gandhis required a "safe seat" to contest, they always headed South. Be it Indira Gandhi to Chikmagalur (Karnataka) and Medak (Telangana) and Rahul Gandhi to Wayanad (Kerala). Even now, Rahul Gandhi can draw crowds in the South and look comfortable in his skin, whether doing push-ups with students or diving into the sea with fishermen.

To reclaim its lost ground in the South, the Congress needs to do a realistic assessment of its prospects for 2024 and get back to the drawing board to chart out a longer-term strategy. This would require rebuilding the organisation with homegrown leaders capable of grassroots mobilisation—even if it means stealing a leaf from the BJP playbook, which is attempting with K Annamalai in Tamil Nadu. This is imperative to keep muscular right-wing nationalism at bay and nascent separatist tendencies in check to preserve the idea of a federal and secular India.

Nitish has got a plan

Apropos of United Oppn a priority, not leadership: Nitish (Sept 8). Even though Nitish Kumar said he has no thoughts of becoming the Opposition's PM face, he is playing the main role in unifying Opposition parties against the BJP. To really decipher his intentions, we must wait for 2024. Meanwhile, Rahul Gandhi has kicked off his yatra—this shows the Opposition is gaining momentum.

Dynastic mess

Rahul Gandhi's 'Bharat Jodo Yatra' cannot reap the desired benefits for he is myopic and divisive in his perception. Even though he quit the post of party president, he still calls the shots! The party has incorrigibly devolved into an outdated dynastic fiefdom.

Shivaji, Cholas and the ensign

Apropos of The Central politics of regional histories (Sept 8). Both Shivaji and the Cholas were great in their own rights. While Shivaji's formidable navy was trained to fight foreign aggression, the Chola navy was known for its conquests and victories extending to South-east Asia. Thus, celebrating the Chola navy may give a wrong signal to these countries with whom India has cordial relations.

Bengaluru blunder

Amid heavy rains lashing across Kerala and Karnataka, and floods engulfing Bengaluru, it makes one think about what really went wrong. Most of these cities are badly planned. Drainage systems are sloppily put together, and buildings are built on lakes. Then comes a ripple effect of rains, floods, traffic and accidents. What are the MPs, MLAs and civic authorities doing?

Tax raids on NGO

This is with reference to the news, Tax raids now on top policy think tank, NGO, Trust (Sept 8). It is very disheartening to see the think tank and NGO being targeted and raided just because they are challenging the corruption and injustice in the nation. The government must allow them to function to help the poor—they are the immediate victims of corruption and injustice.

Sand evac from Konark Temple to begin

The western side of Jagamohan of Sun Temple at Konark. Inset: The inner cavity

DIANA SAHU @ Bhubaneswar

HUNDRED and nineteen years after it was sealed by the British, sand from the towering Jagamohan of 13th century Sun temple at Konark will finally be evacuated.

The process began on Thursday with Archaeological Survey of India (ASI) beginning construction of a mechanical working platform on western side of the structure to facilitate sand removal.

The massive and sturdy working platform will come up over the 'Antarala,' which is a vestibule in the form of an intermediate chamber connecting the 'garbhagruha' to 'mandapa' of the temple.

It's going to be a long drawn out process. ASI sources say the whole project of sand evacuation could take at least three years. The British took three years - from 1901 to 1903 - to fill Jagamohan with sand, the volume of which is still unknown.

Construction of the mechanical working platform would take two to three months to be complete. Thereafter the process to remove stones over the 'Antarala' from the western side of the temple will begin in January next year. The stones will be removed for creation of a 6 ft X 5 ft hole/tunnel manually at the location where the British had originally put sand inside the monument, Superintending Engineer of Bhubaneswar Circle, ASI, Arun Malik told TNIE.

"Before that, we will put up a structural health monitoring system in the monument to check the vibrations and tilt. Subsequently, two core drilling will be done at the point which was used by the British to fill in sand and another at the bottom of the 'Antarala.' This will help us understand the internal masonry and make a tunnel in the structure," he said. Earlier in the day, ground breaking ceremony for the work was conducted by ASI officials on the premises of the temple - Odisha's only World Heritage Site.

Malik informed that the extent of sand inside the Jagamohan at present is up to 19.8 mtr (64.9 ft) from the bottom of the 39.6 mtr (130 ft) high monument and the sand has settled by 5.8 mtr (19 ft) from the top.

Hijab an innocent display of faith: Lawyer to SC

'Not very fair' to compare practices in Sikhism as they are well ingrained in Indian culture, says bench

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

STUDENTS challenging the Karnataka High Court verdict upholding a ban of hijab in education institutions where a dress code is in force told the Supreme Court on Thursday that wearing of hijab and 'namam' was an innocent display of faith. However, wearing an orange shawl was a belligerent display of religious jingoism, they said.

The students' counsel, senior advocate Devdat Kamat also submitted before the bench of Justices Hemant Gupta & Sudhanshu Dhulia that the wearing of the headscarf was a part of religious belief. This came under protection from Article 19 (1) (a) (right to freedom of speech and expression) and article 21 (right to life and personal liberty).

He said the state could not restrict a religious practice unless it affected public order or fell foul of morality or public health. "The argument of the state is if I wear hijab, other students will wear orange shawl. Wearing an orange shawl isn't, I think, an innocent display of faith but it's a belligerent display of religious jingoism. Article 25 doesn't protect that. Article 25 protects an innocent display of faith. Namam yes, Rudraksha yes, tilak yes and hijab yes. Wearing of the orange shawl is not a bona fide practice," said Kamat. He represents petitioner Aishat Shifa who was banned from entering her classroom wearing hijab.

The court hearing arguments said that it was "not very fair" to compare the practices in Sikhism as they are well ingrained in the culture of the country. The apex court asked the petitioners not to draw a parallel between Muslim and Sikh religious practices. The apex court observed the five Ks in Sikhism — Kesh, Kara, Kanga, Kaccha and Kirpan — are well established.

The top court referred to Article 25 of the Constitution and said it provides for carrying of Kirpan by Sikhs. Article 25 of the Constitution deals with freedom of conscience and free profession, practice and propagation of religion.

"Don't compare these practices because they have been recognised for over 100 years," the bench said.

Advocate Nizam Pasha, arguing for one of the petitioners, said Article 25 mentions only Kirpan and not the other Ks. "What we are saying is please do not draw any parity with Sikhism. That is all. That is what we are saying," the bench said. Several pleas have been filed in the top court against the March 15 verdict of the high court holding that wearing of hijab is not a part of the essential religious practice which can be protected under Article 25 of the Constitution.

The high court had dismissed the pleas filed by a section of Muslim students from the Government Pre-University Girls College in Udupi, seeking permission to wear hijab inside the classroom.

Challenging the February 5 order of the government, the petitioners had argued before the high court that wearing the Islamic headscarf was an innocent practice of faith and an essential religious practice and not a display of religious jingoism.

The argument of the state is if I wear hijab, other students will wear orange shawl. Wearing an orange shawl isn't, I think, an innocent display of faith but it's a belligerent display of religious jingoism. Article 25 doesn't protect that.

Bilkis: Hearing on remission today

The SC will hear today a PIL challenging remission granted to 11 convicts in the Bilkis Bano case. A bench of Justices Ajay Rastogi and BV Nagarathna will hear the case. Earlier, a bench headed by the then CJI NV Ramana had sought response from the Centre and State of Gujarat in the PIL and also asked the petitioner to implead the 11 convicts and sought their response within 2 weeks. The bench said that it was only concerned whether the remission granted was in accordance with law or not. Activists in the petition had sought for production and setting aside of the remission.

EWS quota: Issues for adjudication fixed

The SC on Thursday fixed three broad issues for adjudication arising from the pleas challenging the Centre's decision to grant 10% reservation to EWS in admissions and jobs. It will also decide whether the Constitution (One Hundred and Third Amendment) Act breached the doctrine of the basic structure of the Constitution by allowing the state to make such special provisions. A five-judge Constitution bench said the three issues suggested by Attorney General K K Venugopal for the decision "broadly" covered all the aspects relating to the petitions on the constitutional validity of the decision to grant the reservation.

While refusing to stay the operation of the law, SC had on December 18, 2019, issued notices to the Centre on the pleas. SC nudges Centre on transgender employment

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday sought to open a window of opportunity for transgender people seeking jobs in various government departments by directing the Centre to devise a policy framework to reasonably accommodate them.

In doing so, the court tried to take the implementation of the Transgender Persons (Protection of Rights) Act 2019 forward.

A bench of Justices D Y Chandrachud and Hima Kohli called the Act a "watershed in the evolution of the rights of transgender persons" asked the Centre to ensure that it is implemented "in letter and spirit". "It'll be necessary for the Centre in consultation with the National Counsel for Transgender Persons to devise policy framework in which reasonable accommodation can be given to transgender persons for employment in establishments covered by the provisions of the Act," the bench said. The Centre has been given three months time to do so. The Court was ruling on a plea filed by Shanavi Ponnusamy, a transgender person from Thoothukudi in Tamil Nadu whose application for the post of cabin crew was rejected by Air India.

Born in 1989, Ponnusamy underwent a gender reassignment surgery in 2014 to become a woman.

No garba entry without ID proof, says BJP mantri

MP Culture & Tourism Minister claims move will curb 'love jihad'

ANURAAG SINGH @Bhopal

THIS Navratri, entry at garba pandals in Madhya Pradesh won't be allowed without authentic identity proofs, state's culture and tourism minister Usha Thakur said in Gwalior on Thursday. The decision has been taken to prevent people from entering garba venues after hiding their identities to indulge in 'love jihad', Thakur added.

"Whoever comes to the garba pandals should possess authentic identity proofs. Without proper ID proofs, entry will not be allowed," she said. "Garbas had in the past turned into a big way to carry out love jihad activities, but now all concerned stakeholders have become alert about it. To ensure that nobody enters the venues by hiding real identity, identity cards will be checked," she added, asking the event organisers to ensure strict implementation of the decision. "This is a salaah (advice) as well as naseehat (instruction)," Thakur said.

This is not the first time Thakur has waded into a similar controversy. When she was the BJP MLA from Indore-III seat of Indore district in 2013,

Garbas had turned into a way to carry out love jihad activities, but now all stakeholders have become alert. To ensure that nobody enters the venues by hiding real identity, ID will be checked
Usha Thakur, MP minister

she had, ahead of the Navratri celebrations, demanded ban on entry of non-Hindus, particularly Muslims, at the garba venues, calling it an attempt to prevent Muslim men from seducing Hindu girls and women. She had then demanded making Aadhar and other ID proofs mandatory for entering the venues by "posing as Hindus".

In 2017, an umbrella group of Hindu festival organisers in Bhopal, the Hindu Utsav Samiti, had also asked the district administration to make possession of Aadhar cards necessary as identity proof to prevent the entry of non-Hindus at the festival venues.

Reacting to Thakur's instructions, state Congress spokesperson Narendra Saluja said that while ensuring measures to prevent entry of people hiding their actual identities at the garba events is acceptable, calling the venues as hubs of love jihad is deplorable.

Garbas, which form an integral part of Navratri celebrations in many parts of India, are organised all over Madhya Pradesh, but they are most popular in the Malwa-Nimar region, including Indore and adjoining districts.

KISAN NIDHI

UP to recover money paid to ineligible kisans

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

AROUND 21 lakh farmers of Uttar Pradesh have been found ineligible of receiving benefits under the PM Kisan Nidhi scheme but money has already been transferred to their bank accounts. Now, the state government is proceeding to recover the money as per the rules.

A total of 2.85 crore farmers were selected under the Pradhan Mantri Kisan Samman Nidhi scheme in the state, out of which 21 lakh beneficiaries have been found ineligible.

UP Agriculture Minister Surya Kumar Shahi said among the ineligible beneficiaries are those who pay income tax, do not own any land or where the husband and wife both are taking benefits of the scheme, which gives ₹6,000 per year in three equal instalments to all land-holding farmer families.

Shahi urged to farmers to get their land records verified and uploaded on the department's portal by Friday to be eligible to get the 12th instalment by this month-end. Additional Chief Secretary, Agriculture, Devesh Chaturvedi said officials are verifying data of 1.62 crore farmers who will get the benefit in the upcoming phase.

Nihangs kill youth for 'smoking' near Golden Temple

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

A youth allegedly died in a scuffle with radical Nihangs near Golden Temple on Thursday after an argument over smoking, police sources said.

The police said while two suspects were on the run, another identified as Ramandeep had been arrested.

Police sources said a CCTV camera outside a hotel near the Golden Temple had captured the incident after which the accused was identified.

A case has been registered on the complaint of Balwinder Singh, father of the deceased, Harmanjit Singh.

This is the third incident involving religious violence in about a week. Three days back, a dozen persons, including policemen, were injured in a clash between Nihangs and followers of Radha Soami Satsang Dera at Beas when the former allegedly tried to forcibly enter the Dera premises to graze cattle.

Prior to the Dera attack, a church was vandalised at a village in Taran Taran.

Sources said Harmanjit Singh of Chatiwind village in Taran Taran district was smoking outside a hotel, some 800 m from the Golden Temple, on Wednesday. An argument over smoking ensued between him and two Nihang Sikhs who were joined by two others. A scuffle followed in which Harmanjit was allegedly assaulted with a sharp weapon, killing him on the spot.

The youth's body kept lying near the hotel the entire night, sources said, adding the police took the body to the hospital in early morning.

Amritsar Police Commissioner Arun Pal Singh said he died due to excessive bleeding. "We have identified the three accused. One of them has been arrested," he said.

Fateful night

The victim's father said his son Harmanjit got a call on Wednesday night, after which he left for the Golden Temple to pay obeisance, saying he would return in the morning. When Harmanjit didn't return, he went in search and located his son's bike and his body.

CPM statewide stir on graft, lawlessness soon

CPM, the erstwhile ruling party of West Bengal, is all set to kick off protests against ongoing corruption charges against TMC leaders and lawlessness in remote pockets across the state. With this, the party aims to woo the electorate for next year's panchayat elections . The party asked its ground-level workers to campaign intensively to highlight the three ongoing corruption charges — recruitment scam in schools, cattle smuggling and coal pilferage — at the village level to secure political dividend in the rural elections. Since the party witnessed a rise in its vote share in recent municipal polls, it's expecting better performance in the panchayat elections compared to 2018.

Bangladesh to send hilsa fish as Puja gift

Bangladesh has decided to send close to 2,500 tonnes of hilsa to Bengal as a 'Puja gift'. The consignments will start reaching Kolkata shortly. In September 2021, Dhaka had agreed to send over 4,000 tonnes of hilsa to Bengal, the highest in recent times, but only 1,200 tonnes could be exported because of lack of time. In April, Bangladesh export minister Tipu Munchi had met CM Mamata Banerjee during the Bengal Global Business Summit. Later, he had raised the border issue with Mamata and even promised to visit the Benapole-Petrapole border to do away with glitches and expedite the process of goods clearance.

'Fast-track redressal for plaints from CMO'

Mamata Banerjee asked senior officials of the state administration to redress grievances lodged with the chief minister's office (CMO) within seven days, after she came to know that some departments were taking more than three weeks to resolve the complaints related to government services. The chief minister issued the instructions during an administrative review meeting held at Nabanna, the state secretariat in Kolkata. Sources in the administration said the instruction hinted that more and more people are lodging complaints with the CMO apparently after they did not get satisfactory services from the government.

EJAZ KAISER @Raipur

CHHATTISGARH Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel will inaugurate two new districts — Manendragarh-Chirmiri-Bharatpur and Sakti as the as 32nd and 33rd administrative districts, respectively, on Friday.

Last week, Baghel had inaugurated Mohla-Manpur-Ambagarh Chowki, Sarangarh-Bilaigarh, and Khairagarh-Chhuikhadan-Gandai districts. He had also sanctioned development works for the new districts.

Chhattisgarh was carved out from Madhya Pradesh in 2000 with 16 districts.

The earlier BJP regime led by Raman Singh had created 11 new districts during 2003-2018 period.

When Congress took over in December 2018, the state had 27 districts. The Baghel government has so far created six new districts, starting with Pendra-Gaurelaa-Marwahi in February 2020.

The new districts will offer better opportunities for health and education, enhanced connectivity and implementation of welfare schemes and bring the administration closer to the people, Baghel said.

EOW searches bishop's premises in Jabalpur, recovers ₹1.65 cr, $18k cash

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bhopal

SLEUTHS of the Economic Offences Wing (EOW) raided the residential and official premises of Church of North India Jabalpur Diocese Bishop PC Singh in Jabalpur on Thursday and recovered ₹1.65 crore and $18,000 (₹14.36 lakh) in cash. Besides this, documents pertaining to 17 properties, 48 bank accounts, and gold jewellery worth ₹80.72 lakh were recovered during the search, which continued late into the night.

As per EOW SP Devendra Pratap Singh, the agency had in 2015 got a complaint alleging that Singh, chairman of Board of Education Church of North India Jabalpur Diocese, had siphoned students' fee collected from the institutes into religious entities and for personal use. It was also alleged that Singh had changed the original society's name and became its president thereafter. During the probe, it was prima facie found that ₹2.70 crore was siphoned in 2004-05 and 2011-12.

Based on the findings of the probe, a case was registered some weeks back against Singh and BS Solanki, who was the then assistant registrar of firms and societies.

The searches were conducted at Bishop's house in Napier Town area Jabalpur city. With a huge volume of cash recovered from the premises in presence of his wife and son, staffers of a nationalised bank were pressed into action with note counting machines.

"We are probing all aspects, including religious entities the money has been siphoned off to. Possibility of the money being used in illegal religious conversion activities will also be probed," the SP said.

Singh is considered a close aide of Peter Baldev (the Bishop of Lucknow Diocese of Church of North India) who was arrested by the UP Police from Meerut in connection with a Gangster Act case two months back.

Singh, who is reportedly in Germany now, is accused in several cases, including fraud, cheating and forgery in various parts of India, including UP, Maharashtra, Punjab, Jharkhand and Rajasthan.

Rakesh Chattree, principal, Lucknow's Christ Church College, who had lodged an FIR against Baldev in 2021, had a few months back written to the UP Police for including Singh's name in Baldev's gang chart.

Kangaroos, 19 primate species among 41 'exotic' animals seized in Assam

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @Guwahati

A police station in Kamrup district of Assam seemed to have turned into a mini-zoo on Thursday after 41 "exotic" wild animals and birds were seized from two SUVs.

The animals included two kangaroos, 19 different types of primate species, including two suspected to be chimpanzees, two wild birds and 18 tortoises, Kamrup Superintendent of Police Hitesh Ch Roy told this newspaper.

The seizure, one of the biggest such recovery of trafficked animals in the state, was made at Rangiya city after the police took action based on intelligence inputs. The consignment was coming from Mizoram-Myanmar border in two SUVs and was headed towards Siliguri in West Bengal, police said.

The vehicles, which bore Delhi registration numbers with Army stickers pasted on them, were intercepted by the police after they had traversed over 700 km through Mizoram, Meghalaya and Assam.

Roy said the police are taking the help of forest officials to identify the seized species.

Two persons — Raghu Singh (42), son of Suruli Ghosh of Thena, and Karthik (27), son of Chinaiasamyalagar, Vilipuram, both in Tamil Nadu — have been detained.

"We are investigating the case," Roy added.

There have been a few similar seizures of exotic animals made by the Assam Police over the past three years. In some of the cases, the vehicles transporting the animals were found to have travelled from Mizoram.

However, the state's apex tribal group Naga Hoho said it is "loyalty tax" in Nagaland. "We have many political (rebel) groups and they want loyalty tax for Naga national movement," HK Zhimomi said, adding that there may be cases of extortion not related to the rebel groups.

UP sets Oct 15 as deadline for madarsa survey

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

Singh has said that to conduct the survey, teams comprising sub-judicial magistrate, district shiksha adhikari and district minority welfare officer will be finalised by Saturday. "Each team will conduct the survey under the supervision of additional district magistrate and submit its report to the district magistrate who will send it to state administration," he said. "It is being conducted to provide quality education to minority students," said Singh.

Row over 'decked up' Yakub Memon's grave

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

THE BJP and Shiv Sena battled each other on Thursday over putting LED lights and decking up the grave of Yakub Memon, the 1993 Mumbai bomb blast convict who was hanged in 2015.

Maharashtra BJP chief Chandrashekhar Bawankule alleged that Memon's grave was "decorated" with marble tiles and lit up during the Uddhav Thackeray government.

The blast convict was buried on July 30, 2015 at Bada Qabrastan in south Mumbai.

BJP MLA Ramdas Kadam shared a video on social media that shows Memon's grave being decorated. Many party leaders joined Kadam in alleging that the grave had been converted into a tomb while Uddhav was the CM.

Kadam blasted the previous MVA government and demanded an apology from Uddhav, Sharad Pawar and Rahul Gandhi.

Amid the controversy, the Mumbai Police removed the LED lights put around the grave. An inquiry will also be conducted by a DCP-level police officer.

Responding to the criticism, Shiv Sena leader Aaditya Thackeray said Memon was buried during the BJP government. "The BJP should answer why Memon was buried in Mumbai. Despite the fact that a convicted terrorist's body is never given to his family, the BJP government allowed his kin to carry out the last rites," said Aaditya.

He accused the BJP of playing dirty politics. "The party should focus on development and not twist non-issues to get political benefit out of them," he said.

Stalwart of our times, says Modi

WASHINGTON/ LONDON

LEADERS from around the world on Thursday expressed their sadness at the death of Queen Elizabeth II, recalling their association with the "kind-hearted" monarch.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi said Queen Elizabeth II personified dignity and decency in public life and recalled his memorable meetings with her in 2015 and 2018.

"I will never forget her warmth and kindness. During one of the meetings she showed me the handkerchief Mahatma Gandhi gifted her on her wedding. I will always cherish that gesture," Modi said.

"Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II will be remembered as a stalwart of our times. She provided inspiring leadership to her nation and people. She personified dignity and decency in public life. Pained by her demise. My thoughts are with her family and people of UK in this sad hour," he said.

US President Joe Biden spoke fondly of their first meeting in 1982 and more recently when she hosted him during an overseas trip in 2021.

"She charmed us with her wit, moved us with her kindness, and generously shared with us her wisdom. She stood in solidarity with the United States during our darkest days after 9/11, when she poignantly reminded us that, 'Grief is the price we pay for love'." French President Emmanuel Macron paid tribute, saying the Queen was a "kind-hearted" monarch and a "friend of France".

"Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II embodied the British nation's continuity and unity for over 70 years. I remember her as a friend of France, a kind-hearted queen who has left a lasting impression on her country and her century," Macron said. German Chancellor Olaf Scholz described the Queen as a "role model and inspiration for millions". PTI

For Charles, the moment finally arrives

LONDON

PRINCE Charles has been preparing for the crown his entire life. Now, at age 73, that moment has finally arrived.

Charles, the oldest person to ever assume the British throne, became King Charles III on Thursday following the death of his mother, Queen Elizabeth II. No date has been set for his coronation. After an apprenticeship that began as a child, Charles embodies the modernisation of the British monarchy. He was the first heir not educated at home, the first to earn a university degree and the first to grow up in the ever-intensifying glare of the media as deference to royalty faded.

He also alienated many with his messy divorce from Princess Diana, and by straining the rules that prohibit royals from intervening in public affairs, wading into debates on issues. PTI

OMCs unlikely to cut oil prices immediately

Brent crude price in the international market has fallen below $90 per barrel, first time in the past seven months

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

EVEN as crude oil prices in the international market fell to a seven-month low, Indian oil marketing companies (OMCs) are unlikely to reduce the fuel price in the domestic market anytime soon.

Industry experts are of the view that these oil companies will probably hold on to current prices for some time to recoup the large losses they incurred in recent months. Brent Crude Future, the benchmark of crude price in the International market, on Thursday, was trading at $88.94 per barrel (6.40 IST).

Brent Crude fell below $85 per barrel on September 7, 2022, lowest since the Russia-Ukraine war began.

"Oil prices are up nearly $88 per barrel now. However even if prices were to remain at $85 per barrel, OMCs would probably hold on to the current prices for sometime in order to recoup the large losses they have incurred. At $85/bbl, there is scope for reduction in retail prices of Motor Spirit (MS); however in the case of high speed diesel (HSD) under-recoveries would continue owing to high crack spreads," said Prashant Vasisht, vice-president & co-Group head - corporate ratings, ICRA Limited.

The fear of global recession, COVID-19 curbs in top crude importer China, and a strong US dollar are some of the reasons crude prices in the international market are climbing down. To stabilise the price, the Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) and their allies decided to cut output by 100,000 barrels per day in October. As per the petroleum ministry, Crude Oil Indian Basket as of September 7, 2022, is at $91 per barrel, in August it averaged $97.40, in July $105.49 and in June $116.01.

Gaurav Moda, India energy leader at EY, said there may be some moderation in domestic fuel prices in due course, not necessarily immediately.

"Typically Indian OMCs are careful about price hikes, as well as reductions, in line with market dynamics. In most cases given they carry over three months of inventory, there is also a typical lag and smoothening or averaging out of impact from any major global price fluctuations. Based on this, it is indeed expected that there may be some moderation in domestic fuel prices in due course, not necessarily immediately," said Moda. India is the world's third-largest oil importer and it imports nearly 80% of its crude requirement.

Note:- The Indian basket of crude oil represents a derived basket comprising of Sour grade (Oman & Dubai average) and Sweet grade (Brent Dated) of crude oil processed in Indian refineries in the ratio of 75.62 : 24.38

Oil import from Russia was to fight inflation: FM

FINANCE minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Thursday said the increase in oil imports at discounted prices from Russia is a part of India's inflation management strategy. The minister, while speaking at an event organised by theICRIER, also said she respects Prime Minister Narendra Modi for his courage to get crude oil from Russia because they are willing to give discount. ENS

APPLE LIKELY TO SEE BEST-EVER SALES IN INDIA

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

THE latest iPhone 14 series, which was launched by the US-based tech giant Apple Inc on September 7, is on course to achieve their best-ever performance in its initial launch quarter in India, say industry experts.

According to the Cyber Media Research (CMR), iPhone 14 series shipments in India will rise by 50% over the previous generations.

"With aggressive marketing and affordability initiatives during the upcoming festive season sales, Apple is on track to attain nearly 4% market share in the hypercompetitive smartphone market," said Prabhu Ram, head of Industry Intelligence Group (IIG), CMR.

The US-based tech giant unveiled four phones in iPhone 14 series that includes iPhone 14 at price of $799 (Rs 63,650), iPhone 14 Plus priced at $899 (₹71,610), iPhone 14 Pro priced at $999, while the iPhone 14 Pro Max starts at $1,099. However, in India, customers will have to pay ₹79,900 for iPhone 14 and ₹89,900 for iPhone 14 Plus.

"I think iPhone 14 series will do well in India, along with iPhone 13," said Tarun Pathak, research director at Counterpoint Research. He further added that India is among the 20-plus countries in the world where the premiumisation trend has just started. Though the premium smartphone market (over $400 retail) is only 7% now in India of the total smartphone market, it is likely to hit 10% in 2023 and is growing much faster (+14%) than the overall smartphone market (7%).

"Apple is likely to again exit India with its highest ever share and revenue... 4% share by volume and around 47% share in Premium segment ....and leading the premium segment for the third consecutive year in India," said Pathak.

As per the reports, Apple moved its production units out of China and it will produce iPhone 14 phones in India. "While Apple will benefit in terms of saving on duty, I doubt it will be passed on to the consumers," said Faisal Kawoosa, founder and Chief Analyst at Techarc.

Apple unveiled 4 phones including iPhone 14 at $799 (₹63,650), iPhone 14 Plus at $899, iPhone 14 Pro at $999, iPhone 14 Pro Max at $1,099

Tata Play profiteered ₹450 crore: NAA

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

DIRECT-TO-HOME (DTH) service provider Tata Play, formerly known as Tata Sky, profiteered ₹450 crore by not passing on the input tax credit (ITC) benefits to the recipients who had made payment between July 2017 and January 2019, the National Anti-profiteering Authority (NAA) said Thursday.

According to the GST law, the suppliers of goods and services should pass on the benefit of any reduction in the rate of tax or the benefit of ITC to the recipients by way of commensurate reduction in prices.

The wilful action of not passing on the above benefits to the recipients in the manner prescribed is known as "profiteering".

As per the NAA order, Tata Play has to deposit ₹225 crore each in the central and state Consumer Welfare Funds. Besides this, interest of 18% per annum has to be paid from the period such amounts were profiteered until the date such profiteered amounts are deposited in particular consumer welfare fund within a period of three months.

"The Respondent is directed to deposit the amount profiteered in two equal parts, of Rs 225,09,03,629 in the Central Consumer Welfare Fund (CWE) and Rs 225,09,03,629 in the particular/tabulated State Consumer Welfare Funds as per the provisions of Rule 133 (3) (e) of the CGST Rules, 2017 along with interest of 18 percent," the order said.

According to the NAA order, if Tata Play did not comply, the monetary amount would be recovered by the jurisdictional commissioners SGST/CGST in accordance with the provisions of the CGST Act, 2017.

Meanwhile, NAA also directed the jurisdiction CGST/SGST commissioners to submit a report regarding compliance of the above order to the authority and the DGAP or within a period of four months from the date of receipt of this order. Further the DGAP has been directed to monitor the compliance of this order by the concerned CGST/SGST Commissioner.

Mkt ignores ECB rate hike concerns, jumps 1%

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

HELPED by falling crude oil prices, India's equity benchmark indexes - Sensex and Nifty - rose over 1% on Thursday to end a two-day losing streak. The gains came despite concerns that the European Central Bank (ECB) will go for a steep hike in key rates.

Post closing the market hours, the concerns proved to be true as the ECB raised interest rates by an unprecedented 75 basis points to control inflationary pressure. Many economists believe that chances of Europe slipping into recession is high due to high energy prices amid losing access to the important Russian natural gas.

Analysts in India believe while the rate hike by the ECB is high, domestic and global markets may have already factored in this development.

"The ECB raised its key interest rates by an unprecedented 75 basis points on Thursday and promised further hikes, prioritising the fight against inflation. In the US, Fed Chair Powell said the US central bank will not flinch in its efforts to curb inflation until the job is done. Both these developments were largely in line with expectations and hence the western markets are not impacted negatively. Even the Indian markets could ignore these developments for now" Deepak Jasani, head of retail research, HDFC Securities, told TNIE.

US' benchmark Dow Jones Industrial Average began Thursday trading with a minor cut of 200 points, while most European benchmarks were in green by mid-session.

Coming to Thursday's gain, the 30-share BSE Sensex index rose 659.31 points, or 1.12% to end at 59,688.22, and the broader Nifty-50 index climbed 174.35 points, or 0.99% to 17,798.75.

Budget preparations to begin from October 10

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE annual budget preparation for the next year 2023-24 will commence from October 10, as per the finance ministry notification.

The next year's budget will be the last full budget in the second tenure of NDA-led government on account of Lok Sabha elections in April-May of 2024. Overall, this will be the ffifth budget in the second term of the Narendra Modi-led government.

As per the budget circular issued by the Department of Economic Affairs, each ministry would project the requirements in the Statement of Budget Estimates (SBE) format and forward them to the Budget Division. The provisional SBE will form the basis of pre-budget discussions to be chaired by the secretary (Expenditure).

The Budget Estimates for 2023-24 will be provisionally finalised after completion of Pre-Budget meetings, which will commence from October 10, 2022, and will continue till around mid-November, 2022.

Non-tax revenues, including arrears of non-tax revenue, would be discussed during the pre-budget meetings. As a follow up action on National Monetisation Pipeline, ministries may be required to explain progress in asset monetisation, said the circular.

"Provisional ceilings for expenditure finalised during pre-budget meetings would be communicated to the ministries/ departments. Financial advisers should ensure data entry in the UBIS (Union Budget Information System) on the basis of the provisional ceilings communicated by the Budget Division. Final ceilings will be decided separately by the Ministry of Finance latest by January 10, 2023 after assessment of fiscal space," the circular stated.

Meanwhile, financial advisers have been directed to ensure that the necessary details required in appendices I to VII are properly entered.

Aug PV sales up, 2W sales below pre-covid level

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

DESPITE lower supply due to shortage of semiconductors, passenger vehicle (PV) retail sales witnessed a robust growth in August.

According to data issued by the Federation of Automobile Dealers Associations (FADA), retail PV sales in August 2022 stood at 274,448 units, up 6.51% when compared with the 257,672 units sold in August 2021. However, when compared with August 2019 sales (194,165 units), PV retail last month grew by a massive 41%.

Two-wheeler sales, which have been dragging the overall automotive market for over a year now, also registered a growth of 8.52% last month to 10,74,266 units as against the retail sales of 9,89,969 in August 2019. However, when compared with the pre-pandemic month of August 2019 (12,76,681 units), two-wheeler sales in August 2022 fell over 15%.

"While two-wheeler segment has grown by 8.5% year-on-year (YoY), it continues to face covid blues due to underperformance of Bharat-VI (pollution norms) and is still not above 2019 levels. This, coupled with price hikes, has made the two-wheeler products out of reach for most entry-level customers. With erratic monsoon, the crop realisation has been low and flood-like situation has restricted customer movement," said Manish Raj Singhania, FADA President. Singhania said the first month of the festive season has turned out to be a dampener. "While dealers anticipated good Ganesh Chaturthi in August, the results thus far has not been encouraging. In spite of good monsoons, festive season began with a dampener during Ganpati," added Singhania. Three-wheeler sales in August grew by 83% YoY to 56,313 units, while commercial vehicle sales grew by 24% to 67,158 units. Total auto sales in August grew 8% YoY to 15,21,490 units, but fell short by 7.45% when compared with the sales of August 2019 (16,43,903 units).

AI-based startup Crayon Data bets big on India, Asia

VAITHEESWARAN B @ Chennai

SINGAPORE-based Big Data start-up Crayon Data helps companies personalize their digital platforms for end users, to increase engagement and in turn revenue, similar to what tech companies use for recommendations.

Founded by two Chennai-based entrepreneurs, it focuses on fintech and banking, retail, tourism sectors and other traditional enterprises.

Speaking to TNIE founder and CEO Suresh Shankar said: "Based on behavioural research, we have reduced the choices to four variables -- taste, influence, context and past behaviour -- to give suitable recommendations for customers." Crayon Data with a growth rate of 125% (CAGR) sees a huge potential in India and its founders credit the country's robust digitised economy. "Our ability to analyse the motivation of the buyers/ users and give better recommendations is the secret sauce to the game," Shankar said. It plans to further increase its business in India, South East Asia and the Middle-East and expand into the US and European markets, focusing on fintech. It aims to raise revenue by increasing its user base from 13 million at present to 500 million and generating 100 million USD revenue by 2025.

CreditSights discovers errors in debt report on Adani Group firms

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

FITCH GROUP's debt research unit CreditSights, which last month had called out Adani Group for being 'deeply overleveraged', now says that it "has discovered calculation errors" in two Adani Group companies. It, however, remained firm that the latest "corrections" did not change its investment recommendations.

The submission of wrong calculation by CreditSights comes following a conversation with Adani Group CFO (Jugeshinder Singh), head of corporate finance (Anupam Misra) and head of ratings (Rahul Kumar) during the week August 22. "As part of this discussion, we discovered calculation errors we had made in two of the Adani Group companies, Adani Transmission and Adani Power. For Adani Transmission, we have corrected our EBITDA estimate from ₹4,200 crore to ₹5,200 crore. For Adani Power, we have corrected our gross debt estimate from ₹58,200 crore to ₹48,900 crore. These corrections did not change our investment recommendations," CreditSights said in a new report dated September 7.

On the Group's aggressive expansion plans and entry into new business that requires funds of billions of dollars, CreditSights said that the "Management (Adani) views that the group's leverage is at manageable levels, and that its expansion plans have not been mainly debt funded." It, however, added, "Though we have taken cognisance of management's viewpoints, we have a different opinion on the above." The Gautam Adani-led Group has seen its debt levels increase over the past five years from ₹1 lakh to ₹2.2 lakh crore as of March 2022. According to a recent analysis by Credit Suisse, the Group's acquisition of Holcim's India businesses (AAC and Ambuja Cement) alone is expected to add another ₹40,000 crore to the Group's debt, taking it to nearly ₹2.6 lakh crore. The Group says the leverage ratios of its companies are healthy.

Adani Group debt swells over past five years

Gautam Adani-led Group has seen its debt levels increase over the past five years from ₹1 lakh to ₹2.2 lakh crore as of March 2022. A Credit Suisse analysis said the Group's acquisition of Holcim's India businesses alone is expected to add ₹40,000 crore to its debt, taking it to nearly ₹2.6 lakh crore

Adani to launch open offer for 26% stake in NDTV on Oct 17

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

Adani Group will launch its open offer for acquiring an additional 26% stake in New Delhi Television Ltd (NDTV) from October 17 to November 1, JM Financial, which is managing the offer, said in a draft letter of offer (DLOF), on Wednesday.

This letter comes even as there is no clarity as when the NDTV founders will allot shares held by promoter holding vehicle RRPR to Vishvapradhan Commercial Private Limited (VCPL), which is needed for the Gautm Adani-led Group to acquire a 29.18% stake in the media outlet.

Since the Adanis announced the hostile takeover of NDTV last month, NDTV promoters have written multiple letters to VCPL, claiming that the transaction to convert the warrants into equity, would require approval from the Securities and Exchange Board of India and income tax authority.

However, the Adani Group has termed these claims as delaying tactics. VCPL, now acquired by Adani, had issued a loan of ₹403.85 crore to RRPR Holding in 2009-10.

Against this amount, convertible warrants were issued to the lending entity by RRPR, which holds a 29.18% stake in NDTV.

Three firms-VCPL, AMG Media Networks and Adani Enterprises, will launch the open offer to acquire up to 26% of the voting share capital at NDTV. They have offered a price of ₹294 for the acquisition of up to 1.67 crore shares of NDTV, leading to a total consideration of ₹492 crore.

However, share prices of NDTV on Thursday closed at ₹468 level, much more than what Adani's are offering. As per the draft paper, October 13 has been kept as the last date for upward revision of the Offer Price / the size of the Offer.

The draft paper also specifies that the last date for SEBI observations is September 28. The last date for dispatch of the letter of offers to the public shareholders is October 10.

IOC to IOA: Set your house in order by December or get suspended

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

THE International Olympic Committee (IOC) has issued Indian Olympic Association (IOA) a final warning to resolve all issues or face suspension. As reported by this newspaper, the IOC discussed infighting and court cases at its Executive Board meeting on Thursday and shot a letter to the IOA. Because of the uncertainty in the IOA, the IOC postponed the 2023 IOC session in Mumbai from May to September/October next year.

The IOC, like in its July letter, insisted that IOA hold its elections as early as possible to avoid any sanction. It also said that the elections should be conducted in accordance with the Olympic Charter. In fact, in its last letter, it had said the election should be held in accordance with the existing IOA constitution too.

James MacLeod, Director of Olympic Solidarity and NOC Relations of the IOC, in a letter, said that the IOC EB had "examined the situation of the NOC of India and, in view of the ongoing internal disputes, governance shortcomings and ongoing court cases, took these decisions." The letter has been written to the IOA secretary general Rajeev Mehta and all members of the Executive Council.

The IOC was left with no choice but "To issue a final warning and consider the immediate suspension of the NOC of India at the next IOC Executive Board meeting in December 2022 if, by then, the NOC of India is not able to:

1. address and resolve its governance issues to the satisfaction of the IOC, in the interest of sport and the athletes; and

2. operate properly through its governing bodies, i.e. the Executive Committee and General Assembly, and fulfill its obligations, in particular by holding its quadrennial elections in accordance with the Olympic Charter."

In case the IOA fails to do so before the December EB meeting, IOA will be suspended which will eventually bar athletes from participating in international events under the national flag nor will the national anthem be played.

The IOC refused to acknowledge Anil Khanna as the acting president. "During this transition period, and given that the IOC does not currently recognise any "interim/acting president" of the NOC of India, the NOC Secretary General will serve as the main point of contact to coordinate the next steps with the IOC, in close consultation and in agreement with the NOC Executive Council and General Assembly," said the letter.

"In view of the uncertain situation, the IOC Session that is due to take place in Mumbai in May 2023 is postponed until September/October 2023. Depending on the decisions that will be taken during the IOC Executive Board meeting in December 2022 relating to the NOC of India, the IOC Executive Board will decide as to whether the IOC Session in 2023 should be maintained in India or be relocated," said the letter.

With the IOA a divided house, it needs to be seen how things would pan out. Adille Sumariwalla, who too had said he was the president of the IOA, too would not be recognised.

The IOC has proposed a meeting between all stakeholders in Lausanne on September 27. The IOA welcomed the decision. Mehta said that he welcomes the decision and would work towards resolving the issues.

CARLOS Alcaraz battled past Jannik Sinner in five sets to reach the US Open semifinals on Thursday in the latest ever finish in the tournament's 141-year history.

A thrilling 5hr 15min duel that finished at 2:50am local time ended with the 19-year-old Alcaraz claiming a 6-3, 6-7 (7/9), 6-7 (0/7), 7-5, 6-3 victory to advance to a last-four showdown with Frances Tiafoe of the United States on Friday.

The previous record for the latest finish to a US Open match was 2:26am, which had been set three times before.

Incredibly, it was the second early-hours-of-the-morning finish for Alcaraz this week.

The Spanish No.3 seed had edged past Croatia's Marin Cilic in another five-set epic in the fourth round in a match that finished at 2.23am local time on Tuesday. A crowd of a few thousand die-hard spectators roared their appreciation for Alcaraz as the Spaniard collapsed to the Arthur Ashe Stadium court in delight after a famous victory over Sinner, the 21-year-old Italian 11th seed. "Honestly, I still don't know I did it," said Alcaraz after a win which came after he survived a match point in the fourth set.

"It was a high quality and unbelievable match. Jannik is a great player. His level is just amazing.

A shattered Sinner said the defeat was the hardest of his young career. "I had some tough losses for sure, and this is in the top list," he said.

"I think this one will hurt for quite a while but tomorrow — or today — I wake up and try to somehow take the positives but it's tough for sure."

Alcaraz got off to a smooth start after taking the first set 6-3, breaking Sinner twice towards the end of the set to to seize an early advantage.

Tiafoe reached his first Grand Slam semifinal by seeing off Andrey Rublev 7-6 (7/3), 7-6 (7/0), 6-4 to move within two wins of becoming the first African-American man in 54 years to win the US Open.

> Honestly, I still don't know I did it. I always say that you have to believe in yourself all the time. Hope is the last thing that you lose. I just believed in myself and believed in my game.

> They took away one opportunity from me, so I worked really hard for this one."

> My hotel room right now is a disgrace too. Yeah, it's pretty bad. Clothes everywhere. My player bank is diabolical. Yeah, it's getting the job done, so who cares right now.

SWIATEK TO FACE SABALENKA

Iga Swiatek reached her third Grand Slam semifinal of 2022 on Wednesday and first at the US Open with an error-strewn triumph over Jessica Pegula, the last remaining American woman in the tournament. French Open champion Swiatek claimed a 6-3, 7-6 (7/4) win, her third against Pegula this year. In Thursday's semifinal, the 21-year-old Pole will face Aryna Sabalenka who she has also got the better of on three occasions this season. World number six Sabalenka made the last-four for a second successive year with a 6-1, 7-6 (7/4) victory over former finalist Karolina Pliskova. Results: Quarterfinals (Singles): Men: Carlos Alcaraz (ESP x3) bt Jannik Sinner (ITA x11) 6-3, 6-7 (7/9), 6-7 (0/7), 7-5, 6-3; Frances Tiafoe (USA x22) bt Andrey Rublev (x9) 7-6 (7/3), 7-6 (7/0), 6-4. Women: Iga Swiatek (POL x1) bt Jessica Pegula (USA x8) 6-3, 7-6 (7/4); Aryna Sabalenka (x6) bt Karolina Pliskova (CZE x22) 6-1, 7-6 (7/4).

WAIT IS OVER

After 1021 days, century No 71 lands with 6 and a smile

Virat Kohli was all smiles after scoring his first international century since November 2019 against Afghanistan in the Asia Cup on Thursday | AFP

GOMESH S @Chennai

IT HAD been 1021 days since the world witnessed it. Virat Kohli, removing his helmet and raising his bat to celebrate a century. Such has been the frequency of the sight (70 times) that it became a norm. Every time he walked out to bat since then, there was always a sense of could this be the day?

As months and years passed, the questions became much bigger than just the No. 71. There were questions about his place, especially in T20Is. Whether he can find another way to have another purple patch. He took a break and spoke about his mental health struggles before coming back for the Asia Cup. Even when he addressed the press, the uptightness of the past wasn't there. He was taking questions voluntarily and speaking his mind. Kohli did seem like a refreshingly different person.

On the field, he did score runs. Yet, there was no certain answer whether he was truly back. For there were patches of struggles. He seemed to be buying into the template, but the yesteryear fluency wasn't there. Until Thursday.

Brief scores : India: 212/2 in 20 overs (Kohli 122 n.o, Rahul 62) bt Afghanistan 111/8 in 20 ovs (Ibrahim 64 n.o, Bhuvneshwar 5/4).

Having been made to open in Rohit Sharma's absence, Kohli was in his element against Afghanistan in Dubai. While he had his share of nervy moments, it all seemed clear when he took on Mujeeb Ur Rahman. There was an off-drive, a sweep — yes, you read that right — and a loft down the ground as he hit the spinner for 15 runs in an over. At that time, it felt like he was just following the attacking approach. Especially, when he tried to hoick Mohammad Nabi and was dropped on the ropes.

Even as the innings progressed, there was little to think about the No 71. However, it did feel like Kohli finally seemed to have found his fluency back. There was a slice through the point of a yorker, a flick behind square with a walk down the pitch, the bottom-hand-whip between long-on and midwicket. It seemed like he had rolled back time.

But just as he entered the 80s, the tension started to build. But Kohli didn't seem worried at all. For he was batting in the death overs, where he is often the most destructive. He just kept going after the bowlers and brought the hundred with a flat pull over midwicket for a six. The wait was finally over.

For over 1021 days, every time he came closer to the milestone and faltered, there was a sense of anticipation as to how he would celebrate when the moment eventually arrived. He just removed his helmet, raised his bat and smiled. Not the leap in the air of the late 2010s, no swear words as the early 100s of his career. Just a smile of ecstasy. And RELIEF.

He went on to smash a few more boundaries, finishing with an unbeaten 122 runs in 61 balls — the highest by an Indian in T20Is. Other things happened around him as well. KL Rahul made a fifty, India scored 212/2, and Bhuvneshwar Kumar picked up five wickets (5/4) in a 101-run win for India.

On a rain-interrupted day, Shaw and Jaiswal make hay while sun shines

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @Chennai

IF YOU look at the history of Ranji Trophy you will note that Mumbai has won the coveted title maximum number of times. One of the main reasons for Mumbai's success has been the quality of openers in its ranks. Right from the likes of Vijay Merchant, Sunil Gavaskar to Wasim Jaffer, Mumbai has produced quality openers who have played a vital role in their team's fortunes. A good start is always a big bonus.

Keeping the tradition going, the Mumbai pair of Prithivi Shaw and Yashasvi Jaiswal combined admirably in overcast conditions to give West Zone a solid start against North East zone on the first day of the Duleep Trophy game played at the MA Chidambaram stadium on Thursday. Prithivi (61 batting) and Yashasvi (55 batting) raised 116 runs in 25 overs when stumps were drawn. Persistent showers in the morning led to the play to begin at 2.30 pm.

Given the conditions, the North East put West in to bat trying to make early in-roads. But Prithivi and Yashasvi played with a lot of caution and determination to negate all the plans of West Zone. "The wicket was pretty sticky I would say, they were bowling in good areas and we were trying to play that session well, that's it," said Jaiswal after the match.

The 20-year-old played with a lot of the left-hander's grace. He knew when to attack and when to leave the ball, which is an art by itself. He drove with perfect timing and his placements were spot on. "In these conditions (overcast), I think the ball was swinging a bit and the wicket was not that good. It was not conducive to go and play my shots. And of course we needed to keep wickets in hand and all I was trying to do was stay there," said the youngster.

Brief scores : West Zone 116 for no loss in 25 overs (Prithivi Shaw 61 batting, Yashasvi Jaiswal 55 batting) vs North East Zone.

Jaiswal and Shaw played with a lot of understanding. Shaw initially had problems adjusting to the surface with a few edges going between the gaps in the slips. But later as his confidence grew, it was a competition as to who would get their fifty first. "I have been playing with him for the last five years. Plus, we have good communication, we understand each other's game well. We talk often both during tough times and easy times also, so our communication helps," he revealed. As for his thought process on how he approaches the different formats, Jaiswal said, "I think it's pretty simple. It's all about mindset, how I wanna play and how I want to help my team win the games. I play according to the bowler, as per the conditions and different wickets," he signed off.

Good start for East

Puducherry: East Zone reached 179/3 in 54 overs against North Zone in the other quarterfinal on a rain-hit opening day. After losing Riyan Parag early, Sudip Kumar Gharami (68) and Anustup Majumdar (47) ensured the North bowlers did not cause any more damage with the new ball. Virat Singh (43 batting) settled in for a half century stand with Gharami before the latter fell. Skipper Manoj Tiwary ensured there were no further setbacks for East.

Brief scores : East Zone 179/3 (Sudip Kumar Gharami 68) Vs North Zone.

Napoli serve Red alert

Liverpool got their Champions League campaign off to a disastrous start in a 4-1 defeat away to Napoli on Wednesday while Robert Lewandowski hit a hat-trick in a big win for Barcelona. A look at the two matches...

REDS BLOWN AWAY

Napoli raced into an early lead against Liverpool and never looked back. Piotr Zielinski converted a fifth-minute penalty, and Victor Osimhen then had a second Napoli spot-kick saved by Alisson Becker. Yet, Napoli were 3-0 up at the break as Andre-Frank Zambo Anguissa's fine finish was followed by a tap-in from Giovanni Simeone. Liverpool fell further behind two minutes into the second half as Zielinski followed up to score after his initial effort was saved, but Luis Diaz, did pull a goal back.

POLES APART

Lewandowski became the first player to score a Champions League hat-trick for three different clubs as the ex-Borussia Dortmund and Bayern Munich star marked his first appearance in the competition with Barcelona in style. The Catalans crushed Czech champions Viktoria Plzen 5-1 in Group C, with Franck Kessie heading in the opener before Lewandowski made it 2-0. Jan Sykora pulled one back only for Lewandowski to score again before half-time and then fire in his third goal in the second half.

RESULTS | Group A: Ajax 4-0 Rangers; Napoli 4-1 Liverpool. Group B: Atletico Madrid 2-1 FC Porto; Club Brugge 1-0 Bayer Leverkusen. Group C: Barcelona 5-1 Viktoria Plzen; Inter Milan 0-2 Bayern Munich. Group D: Eintracht Frankfurt 0-3 Sporting; Tottenham Hotspur 2-0 Marseille.

Wales are way behind at No 16. The pools have been divided into four of four teams each. The draw ceremony was organised in the presence of Odisha chief minister Naveen Patnaik and FIH acting president Seif Ahmed.

GROUPINGS

Pool-A: Australia, South Africa, France; Pool-B: Belgium, Japan, Korea, Germany; Pool-C: Netherlands, Chile, Malaysia, New Zealand Pool-D: India, Wales, Spain, England.

World champions Belgium are the top seeds and have been grouped in Pool B. Commonwealth Games champion Australia are drawn in Pool A, while the Netherlands are in Pool C. Odisha CM said the state is proud to host the event again. "We are always very proud to welcoming the best hockey teams and players of the world for such an outstanding event. This time, the appetite is even bigger since, on top of our magnificent Kalinga Stadium in Bhubaneswar — where so many wonderful sports stories have already been written — we are inviting the world to a brand-new arena, namely the Birsa Munda Hockey Stadium in Rourkela," he said.

Sumit's doping ban to end on Oct 6

In a relief for India wrestler Sumit Malik, the Court of Arbitration for Sport (CAS) on Thursday handed a 17-month suspension to him for testing positive for a stimulant. Given the development, Sumit's period of ineligibility will end on October 6. The 125kg wrestler was handed a provisional suspension last year for failing a dope test during the World Olympic Qualifier in Bulgaria in May.
